Scholars Wembley dream is at an end

It was Chasetown's 11th match in the cup run and was watched by 2,295 supporters including several hundred travelling Scholars fans.

The 500 or so fans who had travelled to watch were applauded by the players at the end of the match.

He said: "We can go out with immense pride."

Mansfield now face fellow Blue Square Premier side Luton Town in the semi-final. Chasetown host Mickleover Sports tonight (Thursday), kick off 7.45pm. Admission is just £3.

Councillor booted off

A LONG-serving Burntwood councillor has been thrown off the town council after failing to attend any meetings for six months.

Chasetown representative Paul Atkins, who has sat on the authority since 1978, blamed his commitments to other councils.

Clerk Mary Danby confirmed Mr Atkins had failed to attend any meeting since last August which was against local government regulations and meant he was automatically ejected.

He said he did not have the time he would like to give to the town council.

He added: "If I resigned an election would have had to be called and I didn't want to put the council through the expense of that process."

Felling sparks anger as cadet building now planned

FURY AS TREES TO MAKE WAY FOR HUT

by TIM SPIERS

The trees were removed earlier this week from a pathway, known locally as the 'avenue of trees', which runs behind ATP Industries, in Victoria Street, and through Hednesford Park.

The work was part of Phase 2 of Cannock Chase Council's Chase Gateway regeneration project, which will see a cadet centre relocate into the park.

The cadet hut is part of a planning agreement with Tesco, which has signed a deal to build a store as part of the multi-million pound project.

Simon Orme, who regularly cycles along the heritage trail through Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford – which includes in it the avenue of trees – said the pathway had been completely spoiled.

Ruined

Around 20 trees ran symmetrically along each side of the pathway, but six trees from one side have now been felled and replaced with metal gates.

"It looks absolutely stupid now, looking down the avenue," said Mr Orme, who lives in Armitage.

"It's lopsided and what they've done is just unnecessary. The place is supposed to highlight our heritage but it's ruined now.

"The amount of land behind that patch is absolutely huge so why have the council agreed to this and how can they justify it?"

Mr Orme said he had spoken to several residents in Hednesford who were equally as outraged at the decision.

Steph Cunningham, who works in nearby Market Street, said the area could no longer be called an avenue of trees.

"It's lost its symmetry now and is totally ruined. I don't know how they've allowed this to happen.

"We all knew a bit of the park was being given to the cadet hut, but we thought it was nearer to the railway."

Councillor Sheila Cartwright, who represents the Hednesford North ward, said: "I don't like to see any trees cut down. It does look a mess and it's sad the trees had to go – but they obviously feel like they have had to do it."

As well as the Tesco development, Phase 2 of the Chase Gateway scheme at Hednesford includes non-food retail units, a replacement community facility, larger car park and new bus facilities.

As part of the regeneration work ATP will relocate to a new site in Cannock Wood.

A Cannock Chase Council spokesman said yesterday (Wednesday): "As part of the Chase Gateway regeneration project, some trees in Hednesford Park have had to be removed to relocate the cadet centre.

"Plans to remove the trees were approved by the council's development control committee on February 23.

Hedges

"We'd like to apologise for the disruption in the park at the moment, but we can assure residents that more trees and hedges will be planted and there will be a significant net addition when all this work is done."

Councillors hope that the regeneration will create hundreds of jobs and a revitalised shopping experience in Hednesford.

Saddling up for Heroes bike ride

Andy Sawyer appealing for £1,000 so that he can take part in a bike ride to raise money for Help for Heroes

AN ex-serviceman from Hednesford needs to raise £1,000 in less than a month to allow him to embark upon a gruelling 400-mile charity challenge.

Andy Sawyer, who served in the Royal Air Force for seven years, is completing the Big Battlefields Bike Ride, in aid of Help for Heroes.

Having served in the Middle East three times during his term it's a cause very close to Andy's heart.

The father of two now needs to raise £1,000 by April 1, towards his final £2,500 target.

Andy, aged 42, who now works as a youth development worker in Cannock, said: "I am doing well with my fundraising and the support I have received so far has been fantastic but I still need people to donate. Having served for my country I know exactly what the troops are going through and this is my way of showing my support for them.

"I am very excited about the challenge," he added.

"I believe it's massively important to back this campaign because the work Help for Heroes do is crucial to the servicemen and women.

Difficulty

"I just want to urge people to take a look at the work they do, especially during a time of financial difficulty, and know that any money they can spare will go towards making a huge difference."

The Help for Heroes bike ride, which takes place on Sunday, June 5, sees a strong team of 250 ex-military members trek 400 miles across five days. Starting off from Portsmouth the mission continues in Normandy on June 6 – the anniversary of the Normandy landings.

Cyclists will then ride between battlefields across France, ending at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

With the support of Hednesford Cycles and the Cod Father Chip Shop, who have been collecting in their stores, ABC Nursery and Churchfield Primary School in Rugeley, where his children attend, the keen bike rider, is hopeful he will smash his target.

The Liberal Democrat sponsored sixth form students from Cardinal Griffin School, Cannock, Kingsmead Technology College, in Hednesford, Aelfgar Rugeley College, Cheslyn Hay Sport & Community High School and Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School.

The group was given a tour of the Parliament and a briefing from officials before meeting Ms Lynne for a presentation about her role and recent work as a member and as vice president of the Employment and Social Affairs Committee.

Ms Lynne said: "I am glad the students and teaching staff enjoyed their trip to Brussels, it was a great success.

"The students from Cannock and Rugeley showed a lively interest in the European Parliament and my work as a Staffordshire MEP and asked thoughtful questions about the Parliament's role in agreeing new legislation.

"I hope it was a trip they will remember and learn much from."

The visit was led by Brian Leechmere, the deputy headteacher at Cardinal Griffin RC School, in Cannock.

Understand

He said: "The collegiate students gained a much greater insight into the work of the European Union and the benefits of membership of the EU.

"The visit to the European Parliament helped our students to understand first hand that the UK works with the other member states to improve conditions across Europe.

"We were very impressed with the hard work of Ms Lynne and thank her for taking time to meet our students and to talk with them."

March by families of child abuser victims

by SARAH HAZELWOOD

s.hazelwood@expressandstar.co.uk

CAMPAIGNERS from a Rugeley group march through the town this weekend to tighten the law to protect survivors of sexual abuse.

Free from Fear supporters set off from Taylor's Lane car park, behind Rugeley police station, on Saturday at 12pm. They will walk through the town before stopping at Market Square to hear a few words from a survivor.

Free from Fear aims to "give rights back to the victims" and is appealing to the Government to review the law which states that a perpetrator cannot return within a ten-mile radius of the victims' home town – but only while they are classed as minors. The group says the restriction should include adulthood.

Beneficial

Amongst the campaigners is a Rugeley mother, whose daughter, a survivor of sexual abuse, set up the group a month ago.

She said: "At the time of court proceedings my daughter was still classed as a minor so it meant that when her abuser was released from prison he would not be allowed to return to Rugeley and the surrounding areas.

"Upon his release, because she was no longer classed as a minor, that promise was taken from her leaving her wondering if and when she may bump into him. Fortunately this has not yet happened, but on occasion I have seen him in our home town."

The mother added: "All my feelings about what happened resurface and I can only imagine how my daughter would feel if it happened to her, as one day it will, unless the Government tightens the law.

"With the current news about the EU allowing convicted paedophiles the possibility of removing their names from the sex offenders' register, we feel that this would be beneficial to all survivors and give them some peace of mind."

Pancake flippers batter by far

Nursery Nurse Sarah Morris with Eve Kileen and Drew Marsh (both aged three) enjoying the pancake races at the Tinytoez at Nutwood Nursery

PANCAKES were the hot topic as people across Cannock and Lichfield got into the spirit of Shrove Tuesday.

Sue Chilton, who works at the nursery, in Union Street, Bridgtown, said the children had a flipping great time.

Meanwhile, in Lichfield, the sun was shining as the Mayor, Councillor Christopher Spruce, welcomed the crowds and performed the traditional opening of the Shrovetide Fair and Pancake Races in Bore Street.

Peter Young, Lichfield City Council town clerk, said: "The races attracted a large number of local traders and organisations but after several heats, Mary Fathers, competing on behalf of the Lichfield Golf and Country Club, was first over the line to secure the women's trophy."

Spider's web found near shop cutlery

A CHINESE takeaway in Cannock was handed a "no star" rating after health inspectors visited and found cobwebs next to the work surface and breaded chicken kept in supermarket carrier bags.

Bosses at the Peaceful Chinese Takeaway, in North Street, Bridgtown, say they have since tackled the problems.

The takeaway was visited last month by a health inspector working for Cannock Chase Council.

A spider's web was found in the corner of the work surface, next to cutlery, and the floor in the preparation area was described as being dirty in the report.

Food, including battered chicken, was found stored in store carrier bags which, according to the inspector, could lead to contamination.

The management was were given a list of areas and items which needed a clean. The window ledge in the back kitchen area was dirty as was the fridge floor in the main kitchen, the microwave, the freezer seal in the external storage shed and the freezer seal in the kitchen.

The inspector told staff that the light-pull in the bathroom was so dirty it could never be clean.

Food boxes were stored on top of food, which could cause cross contamination.

Manager Eddie Tham said he invited the health inspector to return the next day and he addressed all the concerns he could straight away.

He said: "It is an old building, I can't help that."

Sail club's triumph in awards

SOUTH Staffordshire Sailing Club has been crowned Royal Yachting Association club of the year.

The Gailey-based club was one of five finalists selected by an awards panel who judged them on the range of activities they provide, how they encourage people to get out on the water and how well they engage with the local community.

The award was made at the RYA Dinghy Show at Alexandra Palace in London.

Jackie Bennetts, who co-ordinates RYA Club of the Year, said: "South Staffordshire Sailing Club is a very worthy winner."

Officers on hand for Watch get-together

The meeting will be attended by Staffordshire Police officers and neighbourhood watch schemes in the area will be analysed.

The meeting takes place at Harrisons Sports and Social Club, Wharwell Lane, Great Wyrley, and starts at 7.45pm. For more information, telephone Trevor Lowbridge on 07801 236481.

Two fire crews from Cannock and a rescue vehicle from Stafford were called to the southbound section of the motorway at Junction 11 at 1.30pm on Monday (March 7).

Firefighters freed the woman from the car. She was treated by paramedics before being taken to Walsall Manor Hospital with chest and neck pains.

Stitch in time for church interior

THREE years' work has culminated in 10 large embroidery pieces being presented to a Chasetown church.

Members of the Embroidery for Burntwood Community presented the pieces to St Anne's Church last week.

A dedication service was conducted by the Rev Vivienne Hatton in which the embroideries were blessed.

Four coloured themes are contained within the pieces; light of the world (red), fishers of men (green), bread of life (white) and God with us (purple.

The banners and altar frontals consist of original designs on Christian themes, by Barbara Marshall, and are executed in embroidery and appliqué.

Members give up their free time to complete the work and materials and stands were funded by a number of organisations.

Shakespeare in the Park, Lichfield District Council, Burntwood Town Council, Staffordshire Arts and The Coalfields Regeneration Trust all gave money.

Invitation to Indian children

Chasetown Community School, in Church Street, begins events with a fundraising car boot sale on Saturday, March 19, followed by a concert by Lichfield and Rugeley Youth Jazz orchestra on March 23.

The festivities culminate with the street party on Friday, May 20.

It will coincide with a visit by members of staff from its partner school in New Delhi, the Indian capital.

Comforting for bereaved

The Widows' Club gets together between 1pm and 3pm, at St Chad's Church. For details call Mavis on 01543 425175.

Pupils present a cheque to Rev Richard Westwood and teacher Anna Evans for Link 4 Life

KIND performing arts students from Great Wyrley handed over a cheque for more than £1,600 to a charity.

Year 11 students from Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School presented the cheque to the Link 4 Life Project last Monday.

A team of 14 young people and 17 adults spent a year fundraising and, through the project, visited three charities based in South Africa.

Link 4 Life was set up by churches in Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay, last year, and works to link up young people here with communities in need.

During their two weeks in Africa the team visited Mercy Air, The Baby Bear Project and a HIV/Aids charity, Hands@Work, where they spent most of their time in home-based care and support for orphaned and vulnerable children.

The Rev Richard Westwood said: "Everyone involved in the Link 4 Life Project is delighted that members of our community were able to visit our partner charities.

"The students who went responded so well to all that they experienced. They have obviously formed a real link with the people they met.

Footsteps

"It is great for them to be able to say that they know the area and people who will receive the money they have raised."

Another team is set to follow in the footsteps of last year's group when they visit the three partner charities in July. Ten students from Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School and Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High School are now planning fundraising for the challenge.

To find out more visit Link 4 Life Project blog at www.link4lifeproject.blogspot.com or contact Mr Westwood on 01922 419161.

Delight at music event's £1,000

THE chairman of Cannock Chase Council has thanked the people who made his charity concert a "huge success" last weekend.

At least £1,000 was raised from the night for the Royal British Legion, Councillor Gordon Alcott's chosen charity for the year.

The final amount is still be totted up but Councillor Alcott said the response to the show last Sunday, March 6, was absolutely fantastic.

"I'm really chuffed that we've raised so much money and I've already written to the organisations involved and thanked them," he added.

"We had three bands and they were all brilliant.

"We all loved it – it was a cracking night."

Early warning as hospitals appoint chief

Lyn Hill-Tout

THE new permanent chief executive for Cannock Hospital and Stafford Hospital has been unveiled – and was immediately warned that the "mistakes of the past" must not be repeated.

Lyn Hill-Tout, aged 55, is currently chief executive at the Great Western Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, in Swindon, and takes over in June.

She was appointed to replace troubleshooter Antony Sumara at an extraordinary meeting of the Mid Staffordshire Trust governors on Tuesday.

Mrs Hill-Tout has been boss at the Great Western Hospitals Trust for the past eight years, and was chosen after a gruelling two-day selection process.

She will tackle ongoing concerns about patient care as well as having to deal with the widespread lack of trust in Stafford Hospital and the fallout from the Francis Inquiry into poor standards.

Sir Stephen Moss, chairman of Stafford Hospital, said she was the right person for the job, but she would be given strict performance targets to ensure "mistakes of the past do not happen again".

He said: "Lyn has the right combination of experience and enthusiasm and she will make sure that Mid Staffs continues to improve patient care."

Sir Stephen paid tribute to outgoing boss Antony Sumara saying: "Antony has provided Lyn with a strong foundation on which to build. The hospital is in a very different place to today than it was two years ago."

Mrs Hill-Tout said: "I am honoured and privileged to have been appointed as chief executive of Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust.

Improvement

"Many lessons have been learned at Mid Staffordshire through failures which shouldn't have happened. Improvement is under way, although we still have a great deal to do."

During her time in Swindon the trust was ordered to pay £100,000 after a mother who had just given birth died due to a mix-up between drugs.

Mayra Cabrera, aged 30, died in 2004 after being given an epidural anaesthetic instead of a saline drip.

Crossing 'vital' after OAP death

PARISH councillors are calling for Staffordshire County Council to go ahead with a new zebra crossing on a busy Wimblebury road following the death of a pensioner.

The scheme for John Street, between Scott Street and Glover Street, is to be considered by Staffordshire County Council's divisional highways committee tomorrow (Friday).

Heath Hayes and Wimblebury parish councillors have been campaigning for the crossing, and Councillor John Bernard said the death of 72-year-old Kathleen Radford on February 23 made it even more vital.

The county council's community liaison manager David Wright said he "couldn't guarantee" it would be included in next year's programme of works because of budget pressures.

Ryan Mason, who plays rugby for Burntwood Rugby Club and has been chosen to play for the England 16 group B squad, with team-mates Steve Thompson and teachers Karen Geldard-Williams and Nick James

Ryan Mason, who plays for Burntwood Rugby Club and is in Year 11 at Brownhills Community Technology College, has been hailed as a great sporting role model for his fellow students after winning a place in the B squad for the England 16 group.

The 16-year-old was introduced to the sport when in Year 7.

The youngster, who lives in Pelsall, soon showed a natural ability and flair. Teacher Karen Geldard-Williams set up a link with Burntwood Rugby Club to help develop students' skills.

Burntwood coach Steve Thompson and PE Teacher Nick James set up an extra-curricular rugby club for pupils, which Ryan joined. He has now progressed quickly through the ranks at Burntwood Rugby Club, on to county level, Midlands level and the Leicester Tigers academy.

Helen Keenan, headteacher, said: "We are very proud of his achievements and wish him every success in the future."

Invite to lambing season

THE Rodbaston farm at South Staffordshire College has welcomed new arrivals to mark the start of the lambing season.

Two ewes have each produced twins. The farm is expecting a bumper spring, with 200 expectant mothers producing 400 lambs over the next three to four weeks.

Farming staff and students will be working hard to provide 24-hour care to the new mums and their offspring, in what is one of the busiest times in the farm's calendar.

Visitors can join in the hands-on experience of caring for the lambs at lambing weekends on March 19-20 and 26-27.

For details, visit www.southstaffs.ac.uk or call 0300 456 2424.

Woman driver trapped in ditch

A MOTORIST was cut free by firefighters after her car landed on its roof in a drainage ditch alongside the Rugeley Bypass.

The Peugeot 207 spun and flipped over near Rugeley Power Station at about 11.45am last Saturday,March 5.

It rolled down an embankment into a culvert. No other vehicles are believed to have been involved.

Firefighters removed the side of the car to release the 57-year-old driver who was suspended upside down by her seatbelt. They used hydraulic cutting equipment and airbags.

A Cannock road was closed for more than an hour after a three-car collision on Monday, March 7. The accident happened on Delta Way between Longford Road and Walsall Road at 7.10am.

Wolfie's a big target

The 54-year-old BDO title holder is visiting The Globe, East Cannock Road on May 26.

Darts players at the pub pay £5 to enter a knockout tournament each Thursday from April 28 to May 19, with the winner and three runners-up then challenging Adams. Tickets for the May 26 event are also £5.

Village has best views

VILLAGERS in Huntington are being urged to share their thoughts on the area where they live.

Representatives of Staffordshire Police, South Staffordshire Council, Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service and South Staffordshire Housing Association will be in and around the village from 2pm-7pm.

Pertemps pride over fourth spot in top employer award

Pertemps People Development Group (PPDG) leapt 15 places to secure fourth spot in this year's annual Top 100 Best Companies to Work For awards.

Global chief executive Colin Birchall accepted the award on behalf of the PPDG employees at offices across the country including Cannock, Tamworth, Stoke-on-Trent, Burton, West Bromwich, Birmingham and Coventry at Battersea Evolution in central London.

Best Companies celebrates the best of business by canvassing the views of employees on a number of factors to determine workplace satisfaction.

Mr Birchall said: "To enter the top 10 this year is a tremendous achievement but to do so as high as number four is breathtaking.

"Just three years ago we participated and achieved 23rd place, rising to 19th position in 2010. To now be acknowledged as the UK's fourth best company to work for is testimony to a dedicated and passionate workforce. As a business we continually strive to be the best in our field whilst ensuring our employees derive satisfaction and a healthy work-life balance within their job roles.

"Best Companies has rated us as a three star company, almost comparative to a restaurant gaining three Michelin stars. We were ranked second overall in the perception that employees have of the company and their peers, something we're particularly proud of."

PPDG employee benefits include long-service awards, discretionary bonuses, payroll giving, flexible working, charitable match funding, personal training and health plan.

Is this the way to Tony radio?

A NEW radio station is being launched at a Burntwood school to raise money for an international children's charity.

Pop star Tony Christie, who lives in Lichfield, will be going along to Chase Terrace Technology College tomorrow (Friday) for the first broadcast by Chase Terrace Radio.

The radio station will be hard-wired within the Bridge Cross Road school but has potential to be broadcast over the internet in future.

The launch event from 4.30pm to 8.30pm will feature local bands and fundraising stalls in aid of Radio Lollipop which is run to help children in hospital.

The school's creative partnerships co-ordinator, Simon Lomax, said the pupils involved in Chase Terrace Radio had already made a number of shows for broadcast.

The school is seeking help to fund the project which will broadcast initially before lessons in the morning, at break and after school.

Redundant workers win claim against employer

THOUSANDS of pounds has been paid out to 23 workers who lost their jobs at a Cannock firm. They claimed Romtech continued trading for months after the date they were told it was closing down.

The workers who claimed compensation for unfair dismissal were among 100 made redundant at the building foundations equipment firm at Watling Street Business Park, Norton Canes. Romtech Ltd agreed to make a private settlement to each claimant at Birmingham Employment Tribunal.

The 23 workers said they were told the firm would close in December 2009, and they accepted redundancy, but it carried on well into 2010.

Mr Jones said the unfair dismissal claims were being made because the firm had misled its employees over when the firm would close.

David Palmer, formerly of Pye Green Road, Hednesford, who was a technician, accused the management of misleading its workers.

He said his grandfather, Walter Palmer, had formed the firm in 1957 and sold it in 1992.

"The firm had a £100m turnover at its peak but was reduced to £30m turnover a year because of bad management," Mr Palmer told the tribunal.

"I have lost my home as a result of my redundancy because I could not afford the rent."

Derek Lloyd, a Unite union representative said 100 workers had lost their jobs.

Amount

"Some of them accepted the offer of jobs with the firm at its Sheffield branch but most of those made redundant are unemployed," he said.

The firm initially opposed the unfair dismissal claims but agreed to make a settlement in private during the early stages of the hearing, which was listed for three days.

After a brief adjournment, tribunal judge John van Gelder was told that a settlement had been reached. The amount was not disclosed.

Other redundant workers are now expected to now make similar compensation claims.

Children book in for the night

In pyjamas and with their teddies for their bedtime stories themed day at Holly Grove Primary are Eben Clarke (left) and Jodie Boardman

PUPILS at a Burntwood primary school put on their pyjamas and settled down for a bedtime story for a fundraising day.

The event was held last Friday, March 4, at Holly Grove Primary School to mark World Book Day. Teacher Leanne Repton said all years were involved and the 340 youngsters each paid 50p to come in wearing pyjamas and slippers.

"Barclays Bank in Burntwood has agreed to match the amount we raise and all the money will go to buy new books for the school library," she said.

The school's literacy co-ordinator, Theresa Surplice, organised the day, and youngsters, were invited to bring along favourite bedtime books and teddies.

The afternoon was a long bedtime story session with each class served hot chocolate and marshmallows.

The school in Holly Grove Lane, Chase Terrace, is also busy making plans for a party to celebrate the royal wedding.

It takes place on April 28, the day before Prince William and Kate Middleton tie the knot.

Diggers have cleared the site for the centre next to the car park for Hednesford Park The centre will be next to the town's new Tesco, with access from the re-routed Victoria Street along the side of the park.

Early date fixed for Anzac Day

THE annual Anzac Day ceremony on Cannock Chase has been brought forward by a week this year.

The memorial service is normally held on the nearest Sunday to Anzac Day itself – April 25 – but this year that is Easter Sunday.

Organisers from Wolverhampton Royal British Legion have moved it to Sunday, April 17, from 1030am at the Commonwealth War Cemetery where 73 New Zealanders and 24 Australians are buried.

The service is principally in remembrance of the Gallipoli landings in 1915 by Australian and New Zealand soldiers, but is also a tribute to the Anzac (Australian and New Zealand Army Corps) troops who served in other areas in the 1914-1918 war.

It will also honour the thousands of soldiers who fought during the World War Two in north Africa, Burma and the Pacific.

Responsible

Dolores Ho, of the New Zealand National Army Museum, is also hoping to be there. She is responsible for memorial crosses sent from New Zealand for the annual ceremony which have become known as the Dolores Cross.They were first placed on the graves of the soldiers in 2008.

The ceremony on Cannock Chase, which includes a minute's silence at 11am, is the largest outside of Australia and New Zealand and will include more than 80 Royal British Legion flagbearers.

Appeal for blood donors

THE National Blood Service is appealing for volunteers in Cannock next Thursday (March 17).

Sessions take place at the Civic Centre, in Beecroft Road, from 1.30 to 3.30pm and from 4.30-7.30pm.

Call 0300 123 23 23 to make an appointment.

Cancer patients get free parking

CHEMOTHERAPY patients in Cannock and Stafford are to be offered free town centre parking by the Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust.

The trust, which runs Stafford and Cannock hospitals, is the first in the country to set up such a scheme.

Patients who do not automatically qualify for a blue badge but suffer from fatigue as a result of their treatment, will be able to park for free.

The scheme applies to any council car park.

Clair Turner, the trust's clinical nurse specialist for oncology, said: "We are really excited to be able to get this project off the ground as it's going to benefit so many of our patients."

Councillor Wendy Yates, Cannock Chase Council's health and wellbeing portfolio holder, said: "We're delighted to be working with the NHS trust to offer free car parking to cancer patients.

She added: "Undergoing a course of chemotherapy is a major ordeal and we hope the free parking scheme can help as many patients as possible."

The trust already provides free parking for chemotherapy patients on site.

Wildlife group's meeting

THE Cannock group of the Staffordshire Wildlife Trust hosts a talk from its own biodiverstity officer at its next meeting.

Dr Jon Flanders will give the illustrated talk, entitled Bats, Bugs and Biodiversity at St Luke's Church Centre, Cannock next Wednesday (March 16) from 7.30pm.

Admission is £1.50 including refreshments.

Sale hosted by Goodies

PENKRIDGE Goodies host a tabletop sale on Saturday (March 12) to fund a 3D echocardiograph machine for Cannock Hospital.

The sale is at the Peace Memorial Hall in Pinfold Lane from 10am to noon. Admission is 30p. Refreshments will be served and there will be a raffle.

Mum in campaign to win cash for playgrounds

Linda Jones – campaign

Linda Jones, of Sutherland Road, is urging parents to nominate a playground that needs a boost through the Parents for Playgrounds campaign.

Mum of twins Linda edits the campaign website Ready for Ten, which is written by parents, for parents. This month, Strictly Come Dancing star Patsy Kensit is acting as guest editor as she helps to spearhead the campaign.

Linda said: "I have so many fond memories of playing in the park as a girl and it has always been a concern that for my daughters, things just aren't the same.

"I've been bowled over by the amount of support the Parents for Playgrounds campaign has had, with nominations coming in thick and fast.

"Parents are highlighting abandoned equipment, rundown play areas and concerns over safety. If this applies to your local playground then we want to hear from you too."

According to research 90 per cent of parents worry the tradition of outdoor play is disappearing in the UK.

Robinsons Fruit Shoot who will provide a cash injection to the winning sites believe that playing outdoors is important for all children and recognise that recent spending cuts are having a major impact on the areas where children can play.

Parents for Playgrounds is designed to promote and preserve traditional outdoor play around the country and help the UK's children stay active, healthy and happy.

The research, which questioned 1,000 parents all with children of a primary school age, found that three quarters think that their child is happiest when playing outdoors.

But two thirds of parents feel their local playground is in desperate need of repair.

Nominations must be made by next Wednesday, March 16 when a shortlist of playgrounds will go to the public vote.

At the end of April the playgrounds with the most community votes will be announced and each will receive a renovation bursary of up to £15,000.

Up to five playgrounds will then be renovated throughout May, June and July and will be ready for use at the beginning of the school summer holidays.

Patsy Kensit said: "Outside play is vital for children. There are so many challenges out there for parents these days and it worries me to see the tradition of outdoor play disappearing."

Parents fear for pupils' safety

PARENTS in Great Wyrley are growing increasingly concerned over the lack of a crossing warden at a busy road.

Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School has had no one monitoring the nearby Station Road since September.

Parents have expressed fears over children crossing the busy road to get to the school in Hall Lame.

One, Dave Palmer, said: "Nobody seems to be coming forward – Station Road's a very busy road.

Mr Palmer said the County Council could advertise more to make sure the position gets filled quicker.

Debbie Deeming, the school's business manager, said: "The council tried to cover it, but it's been a bit hit-and-miss.

"It's not been a case of them not trying," she added.

Ms Deeming said there had been no incidents, but road safety was important to everyone.

A county council spokesman said: "We are always looking for new applicants, but not everybody wants to do it."

Dubai fall man died in hospital months later

A BURNTWOOD man died from multiple injuries five months after falling down a marble staircase while on holiday in Dubai, an inquest heard.

Kenneth Taylor, aged 63, of Highfield Avenue, died in hospital in Oswestry on August 16 last year. He had arrived in Dubai to see friends on March 21.

Cannock Coroner's Court heard last Thursday (March 3) that on the first night of his stay Mr Taylor went to bed at his friend's house and as he turned off the landing light lost his balance and fell down the staircase, fracturing his neck and wrist.

Coroner's officer Howard Carter said Mr Taylor was taken to hospital. Surgery was carried out to relieve pressure on his spinal cord and, after a month in Dubai, he was transferred to Stafford Hospital on April 25.

As well as his previous injuries, Mr Taylor was poorly nourished and suffering with bed sores.

He had also picked up a C. difficile infection so was transferred to the hospital's cohort ward on April 30 where he stayed for three weeks.

Once back on a normal ward, doctors discussed whether Mr Taylor should be given a "peg" to help with his feeding but this was not considered appropriate.

On May 19, Mr Taylor was transferred to the Robert Jones & Agnes Hunt Orthopaedic Hospital, in Oswestry, but the stay was 'brief' as he had low blood pressure and developed a bad chest infection.

South Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh concluded that Mr Taylor's condition may not have been helped by the transfer.

Doctors at the Oswestry hospital decided he was too ill to receive treatment and should be taken back to Stafford.

Peg

So, on May 27, Mr Taylor was transferred to critical care at Stafford where he stayed for the next two months. He received various treatments and was fitted with a peg for his feeding.

Mr Taylor's overall health began to improve and in August he was taken back to Oswestry. After appearing brighter, his condition began to deteriorate again and he died on August 16.

Recording a verdict of accidental death, Mr Haigh said Mr Taylor died as a result of cardio-respiratory failure due to a spinal chord injury in Dubai which also led to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

Staff Go Ape as company named in UK's top 100

TREETOP adventure course Go Ape! has been placed 76th in The Sunday Times' 100 Best Companies to Work For.

The company operates 27 treetop adventures across the UK including Cannock Chase. The £250,000 course, off Birches Valley Road, takes three hours to complete. It this year celebrates its fifth birthday.

Company boss Tristram Mayhew said: "If we want to attract the best we know we need to become the best. To be the only leisure enterprise in the top 100 is pretty cool."

A survey found that staff go out of their way to provide good service and they find their jobs "stimulating".

The latest survey is based on staff feedback, and looks to acknowledge excellence in the workplace. Companies are surveyed on a number of workplace factors, including wellbeing and leadership.

Results showed that employees have low stress levels and feel that Go Ape! makes a positive difference to the world. People do not feel that they are under too much pressure to perform well, and some staff work from home.

Labour listens for fresh ideas

A MEMBER of the shadow cabinet visited Hednesford to chat to local people about what policies Labour should adopt.

A 30-strong group, not all members of the Labour party, were invited to Pye Green Community Centre in Bradbury Lane to meet shadow health secretary John Healey.

Mr Healey said Thursday's event (March 3) and a similar one at Walsall College later the same afternoon were part of Labour's "new politics, fresh ideas" campaign.

"We are going out to listen to what the people have to say," Mr Healey said.

Those attending were split into groups to discuss their views.

"We have had several things coming through in Hednesford.

"There is a lot of concern about community safety and street safety because of the cuts in police officer numbers. There is a real worry that policing is going to get worse."

Mr Healey was impressed by the strong support for Cannock Hospital, adding: "People regard keeping existing services in Cannock as really important.

"There was real concern there are cutbacks in the NHS despite David Cameron promising to protect the NHS.

"People are starting to see waiting times going up, and staff jobs cut back."

Trust in plea for helpers

A WILDLIFE charity is running a recruitment drive to find new volunteers to help out at events on its nature reserves.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust hosts a diverse programme of events and is looking for people from across the county to get involved.

It is particularly keen on people with skills like storytelling, outdoor crafts or a knowledge of nature and wildlife.

Library plays host to group's latest display

Heath Hayes Art Group, which meets once a week at Heath Hayes Library, has spent two months on their latest pieces, which are being displayed for free on the first floor of the Manor Avenue venue.

A recent exhibition at The Lightworks in Hednesford raised £300 from the sale of members' work and pieces can also be purchased at the current Cannock exhibition, runs until the end of March.

Group chairman Sue Brindley said there were some very nice pieces on view.

"I'm pleased with the exhibition and it's great to give our members' work some exposure," she added.

"They don't necessarily have the opportunity to work from home but they can just concentrate on painting in the group and it's lovely to see."

The group is more than 20 years old and there is a currently a waiting list for new members.

Attacked dad has operation

A gang of four men and a woman attacked Stuart Bentley, 42, in Hampton Street, as he walked to his home there at 12.45am on February 12.

He also sustained a fractured cheekbone and eye socket after being repeatedly punched, kicked and stamped on.

Mr Bentley was taken to Stafford Hospital and transferred to the University Hospital of North Staffordshire.

Witnesses are asked to call 0300 123 4455.

A CANNOCK bar is up for the craic as it gets ready to host a week of St Patrick's celebrations.

Bar Sport's fun Irish entertainment starts on Sunday (March 13) with an Irish parade in Birmingham. Participants can then head back to Bar Sport for Irish stew, Guinness and live music.

All week at the High Green bar there is Irish food and free live entertainment.

On the Saint's day itself (March 17) Bar Sport will be hosting a St Patrick's Day Party.

The bar will be open early for Irish breakfast, while the evening will see a live band, dancers and party DJ Richie McGuinness to entertain.

Friday 18 is Irish Party night and on March 19 Bar Sport owner Scott Murray is staging The Greatest St Patrick's Party in the World Ever in the Premier Suite.

There will be two live bands, the Gary Lees Birmingham Irish Pipes and Drum Band, an Irish fiddler, dancers and party DJ. Tickets are £12.95 for the entertainment or £19.95 for Irish food included.

On Sunday 20 from 1- 5pm the Premier Suite is hosting the Irish Family Sunday lunch. This will feature traditional Irish music, dancers, magician and Irish banquet. Tickets are £17.50 for adults, £5.95 for children and under 5's eat for free.

Green light likely for village housing plan

A CONTROVERSIAL planning application for 450 new homes in Norton Canes has been recommended for approval by Cannock Chase Council.

Persimmon Homes and Bloor Homes want to regenerate land to the north of the M6 Toll between Norton Hall Lane and Butts Lane. The plans also include the creation of 6,300sqm of employment floor space. The application was going before the authority's planning control committee yesterday (Wednesday).

Residents have expressed concern about the lack of infrastructure and an increase in traffic which could be generated to the south of the village. The house builders originally proposed more than 500 houses on the site, which was taken out of the Green Belt in the 1997 local plan and has been identified as a location for new homes and employment.

Fourteen per cent of the houses will be affordable homes, including some social rental properties.

In a report, planning officers say the site is 'well located' for supporting the sustainability of Norton Canes and the employment floorspace has potential to create more than 300 jobs.

Traffic generated by the development will not have a detrimental impact, it adds.

The application is subject to a section 106 funding agreement which includes a capital contribution of £75,000 to help improve sustainable transport in Norton Canes and the provision of play facilities.

Another condition includes the provision of public transport between the new site and Chase Terrace, Hednesford, Cannock, Brownhills, and Walsall.

At public meeting about the application in August, villagers questioned the need for new housing as well as the loss of agricultural land and destruction to wildlife and habitat areas.

The parish said there would more traffic using Norton Hall Lane, while the county council said the application would lead to increased demand for school places.

Shocked at poor standards of care

I HAVE been following the public inquiry into the scandalous problems that occurred at Stafford Hospital with great interest, having experienced some of the well documented issues at first hand.

As a result I fully supported the campaign by Julie Bailey's Cure the NHS group for a full and transparent public inquiry.

To say I have been shocked by the number of incidents, the poor standard of care, the disgraceful lack of caring attitude by some members of staff and the numerous examples of medical incompetence, all of which totally ignored by the hospital's senior management team, is an understatement.

The information which has been made public as a result of this inquiry has been extremely distressing at times but crucially important if we are to prevent this truly terrible situation from ever occurring again.

It is also plain to see why former Health Ministers Alan Johnson and subsequently Andy Burnham rejected out of hand, the call for a public inquiry by Cure the NHS and virtually all of Staffordshire's local authorities including my own in Cannock Chase.

I for one am grateful that the current coalition Government honoured its pre-election promise to hold a comprehensive and open public inquiry, and didn't try to stop the truth from coming out once in a position of power – unlike the previous Government.

I would like to thank Julie Bailey and her Cure the NHS group of volunteers for all of their hard work and sheer determination on behalf of us all in respect of this extremely tragic affair.

How will Arriva staff cope on the buses?

Take the cars away from the management of Arriva and make them rely on their own busses to try to get around. See how they cope.

Since the 33/33A service was withdrawn by Arriva (who only issued timetables less than a week before the changes took place) I cannot get home by public transport after work.

The last bus run by the replacement Heartlands 62 service leaves Cannock at 4.55pm and like many others, I don't finish work until 5pm. This means that I now have to get a bus to Chase Terrace and walk a mile and a half back home every night (up to two hours for a journey that took me less than an hour, including a 15 minute wait at the stand in Cannock bus station a week ago – on a bus that was very well used).

When the weather gets nicer I might as well walk, it will be just as quick, and save me some money. Luckily I am fit enough to do this – many are not.

I'm sure I am not the only person living in Prospect Village – or Rawnsley, or Hazel Slade, or Cannock Wood – left in this situation.

It has also hugely increased my travel costs, as I now have to use two different companies to travel to and from work. There is no point buying a monthly Arriva bus pass any more. Arriva seem content to run empty busses around the estates of Cannock every 10-15 minutes, meanwhile they're stranding other people who only live a few miles further away.

They have also now announced that they are putting on even more busses from Cannock to Lichfield, after cutting many other local services.

The government tell us that they encourage people to use public transport – Arriva seem to want the exact opposite.

Free parking boost for cancer patients

CANNOCK Chase Council, in partnership with Mid Staffs Hospital Trust, has just launched a new parking scheme to help cancer sufferers.

The scheme is the first of its kind in the country and is a pilot scheme to allow cancer sufferers who are having treatment, such as chemotherapy and radiotherapy, to park for free on council car parks, near to the shops.

They do not qualify for a blue badge so this scheme will enable them to try to live a more normal life and visit town centres to help change their daily routine.

As you will be aware, cancer, and its various treatments, makes people feel very ill and unable to do much.

This pilot scheme will help some of these people to get into shops and feel more 'normal' and to take part in everyday activities, giving a 'feel good factor'.

The idea came from the Mid Staffs Cancer Service Users Forum and when I approached Cannock Council's officers with the idea they embraced it wholeheartedly and worked with colleagues at the hospital to make the idea workable.

I am sure that the pilot scheme will be a great success and I hope it will be adopted nationwide eventually.

So, once again, thank you to those Council and hospital staff who have worked hard to make the idea a reality.

Exhibition raised church cash

THANK you for attending and reporting on our art exhibition at Wesley Church Hall on February 25.

As a group we were pleased with the photograph and article produced and had pleasure in passing our donation of £260 raised, to the fund to help repair the hall floor.

Unfortunately the end of your article has provided wrong information and we are disappointed that people reading it, will think we are associated with the independent art teacher mentioned, who unlike us, benefits financially as an individual and uses a different venue.

We would like to make it clear, it was our group that put a lot of time and effort into organising the exhibition, in support of the fund.

If anyone would like to join us they are very welcome.

The group meets weekly on Tuesdays at 10am at the Wesley Hall, paying £1.50 each towards the use of the hall, money that supports the church.

Attendance to any other art class is not supporting our group or the church.

Finally we would like to thank everyone who attended the exhibition and special thanks to Fred Pritchard, of the Pritchard Group who donated a £25 Argos gift card as the top raffle prize.

Spring is coming – so is Judgment Day

SPRING is coming or so they say
But so also is Judgment Day
You may not agree or think I am wrong
But we cannot continue for much long
It is only my opinion and no one else's
The world is being tested and its defences
Why must there be anger all around
And has the Peace Dove gone to ground
Some pray in hope the troubles will go away
Others sit on the fence day by day
What I ask is simple and not hard to do
Would you feel happy if the Lord looked at you?
I doubt there are many who could say they are pure
But one day soon the truth will come – that's for sure

Anzac parade date

I WAS delighted to see your article about the Dolores crosses coming for the Anzac day parade (Chronicle, March 3).

While you are correct that Anzac Day does fall on April 25, I think you will find that the service at the cemetery on the Chase is on April 17 this year.

School finds place for historic church cross

AN historic church cross has been relocated in the grounds of a Burntwood school.

The 19th century cross was saved from the scrapheap and presented to St Joseph and St Theresa RC Primary in High Street, Chasetown.

Parish priest Father Patrick Mileham blessed the cross at a ceremony in the school grounds yesterday following an Ash Wednesday school mass at 10am

St Joseph's Church, in New Street, Chasetown, dates back to 1883 but was demolished to make way for a new church in Cannock Road in 2003.

Stained glass windows and other furnishings from the church were installed in the new St Joseph's

Kate Bevan and Lisa Gartshorne, mothers of children from the nearby school, thought something should be done to keep the history of the building alive. They came up the idea of saving the cross.

Kate's husband Stuart said: "My wife was having a discussion in the playground about St Joseph's Church and it would be nice to get the crosses saved as the church used to be the school."

Stuart is construction manager at Lichfield Design and Construct Ltd and spoke to Rugeley firm Cawarden Reclamation who agreed to help save the cross for the school, with the help of builders' merchants EH Smith.

Thrilling

Headteacher Pat Davies was delighted to accept the cross as she had married at the old church in 1973 and her children were all baptised there.

"To have it at the school is just thrilling," she said.

The pupils were asked to decide where the cross should be located and to design a plinth. This has been created by Mr Bevan, who has also restored the cross.

Sarah Johnson, from Wednesbury, plans to run the London Marathon on April 17 to raise money for Children with Leukaemia, a disease her cousin Donna Tromans passed away from in 2006.

The 31-year-old has been pounding the streets of Burntwood in preparation for the big day alongside her personal trainer Mark Elliot, who competed for Britain at the Seoul Olympics in 1988.

She said his training regime was proving challenging, but she was hopeful of being in tip-top condition for the 26-mile run around the capital.

"Mark's brutal but in a very good way," said Sarah, who runs the Simply Beautiful salon in Worcester.

"Training has been painful but he's an excellent trainer and is always checking up on me."

Sarah hopes to raise £2,000 for children affected by leukaemia and will be part of the Mr Men and Little Miss team organised by the Children with Leukaemia charity.

"My cousin passed away in 2006 as a result of teenage leukaemia," Sarah said. "She was a beautiful girl with everything to live for.

"I run the marathon in her memory and to help support other families that are experiencing this illness."

Ben Twyman, head of events at Children with Leukaemia, added: "Without the support of each and every one of our marathon runners we could not continue our vital work to help save young lives."

Show by ex-BBC organist

ORGANIST Brian Sharp who used to play live on the BBC, will be playing a live show in Burntwood next Thursday night (March 17).

The Dudley-based musician will be playing at The Memorial Hall, in Rugeley Road, for the Burntwood Music For All Group.

He has made regular appearances on Radio Two and was part of the house band on Pebble Mill at One and Saturday Night at the Mill.

The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets are £5 on the door.

Crouch dance has Blackpool rocking

Mascot inspires Wolves to biggest Premiership win

THE secret to Wolves emphatic win over Blackpool has been revealed – an impromptu Crouch robot dance in the changing rooms performed by a Cannock boy who was mascot for the day.

Isaac Turner, aged six, performed the dance made famous by England striker Peter Crouch in the changing rooms – to the delight of the players including star striker Kevin Doyle, captain Karl Henry and new signing Jamie O'Hara.

Inspired by Isaac's dance moves, the players went on to emphatically beat Blackpool 4.0 and temporarily move out of the Premier League relegation zone.

Isaac's father Simon Turner, aged 38, said: "One of the representatives from Wolves came out and said Isaac had entertained the players with the Crouch robot dance. He does enjoy performing it after seeing Peter Crouch perform it for England. Isaac is a massive Wolves fan and also likes his dancing. I think he was a little nervous before he went in to meet the players but they were lovely to him and he relaxed and just decided to break into the Crouch robot dance.

"He loved meeting the players and having his pictures taken with them. It was a fantastic day.

"Wolves hadn't beaten anyone that convincingly for a long time so to do it on the day Isaac was mascot was just fantastic," added Simon.

Favourite

He even made an appearance on Match Of the Day as the teams entered the field of play.

Isaac, a Year One pupil at St Lukes Primary School, in New Penkridge Road added: "The players put some music on in the changing rooms so I decided to perform the Crouch robot dance.

"I think the players really enjoyed it. I loved meeting the players in the changing rooms but my favourite part of the day was walking onto the pitch with Wayne Hennessey.

"There was a huge roar as we came out. We scored lots of goals against Blackpool.

"It was a brilliant day."

Petition plea as masts proposed

A FORMER councillor is encouraging people objecting to plans for five mobile phone masts to start a petition against them.

Keith Bennett, who used to represent Hawks Green on Cannock Chase District Council, said many people had approached him and his wife, Cannock West Councillor Diane Bennett, saying they were worried about the potential impact of the masts.

Mr Bennett said: "I wouldn't want one outside my house."

He added: "A lot of people are worried about their health and they would be a real eyesore."

He urged anyone with objections to start a petition to make their views known to councillors.

Cannock Chase Council has received applications from the Cornerstone organisation that has been set up to share the 02 and Vodafone network infrastructure.

The plans include a 12m antennae with equipment cabinets at the corner of Station Road and Rugeley Road, Hednesford; 12m masts at sites next to Cannock Cemetery and Keys Park Road; a 14m mast opposite Tesco car park, Heath Hayes and a 15.4m one with three antennae at Aryan House, Brookfield Drive, Cannock.

Cornerstone spokesman Ilana Clark said: "Vodafone and O2 have decided that we will share network assets wherever we can, which will reduce the overall number of new base station locations."

She added: "Base stations are low-powered devices which only cover approximately half a mile and therefore we have to put base stations close to customers.

"We need to improve the 3G coverage to our customers in Hednesford and Cannock and have proposed five shared base stations in these areas.

"We recognise that some communities are concerned regarding the deployment of radio base stations close to residential areas but without them mobile phones will not be able to work."

Raising glass to pub success

Members of the Walsall branch of Camra, which covers Cannock, voted the Linford Arms in High Green runner-up in its Staffordshire pub of the year award.

The Cross Keys in Hill Street, Hednesford, won the 2010 title for the second time in two years.

The Linford Arms is part of the JD Wetherspoon chain and runs regular beer festivals. The pub's name recalls its former use as Linford's long-standing ironmongery and hardware shop.

Kate Hooley, one of the Linford Arms' team of managers, said: "We are really pleased.

"It was the first time we have been up for a real ale award."

Players pocket cash for hospice

SNOOKER fans aimed to pocket the pink and pot the black in a marathon game lasting 24 hours.

The fundraising match at Cannock Unionist Club, raised more than £1,500 for St Giles Hospice in Whittington, near Lichfield.

Eight players took part in the game which started at 2pm on February 26 and ended at the same time the following day.

Among those taking part was Ian Kendrick, steward of the club in High Green, headquarters of Cannock Conservatives.

He said: "It was tough-going but it was worth it. While the game was going on we also held a raffle to boost the final total.

"It brings to over £10,000 the amount of money the club has raised for charity in the last three years."

Extra time call on flats

A BUILDER has asked for more time to start work on a block of 16 flats in Cannock.

Cannock Chase Council will consider the application.

Celebration news leeks

The pre-school youngsters made Welsh flags, bookmarks and St David's Day cards to mark the Saint's day on March 1.

Sue Chilton, unit head at Tinytoez@Nutwood Nursery, said: "We have been doing all kinds of creative things including making daffodil plaques.

"The children have also been eating Welsh food all day. We made leek and potato soup and they tried Welsh cakes and Welsh cawl soup."

Tinytoez@Nutwood Nursery, in Union Street, has been running for 24 years. It currently has 50 children aged two to five on its books.

Youngsters at neighbouring Happy Tots Nursery in Orbital Plaza also celebrated St David's Day by learning about Welsh traditions.

Jessica Lippitt and Callum Wright (both aged three) celebrate St David's Day at Tinytoez@Nutwood Nursery

Tragedy of cot death

A CANNOCK baby lost his life due to sudden infant death syndrome while sleeping next to his father, an inquest heard.

Cannock Coroner's Court was told Kieran Shore, of Cannock Road, was found dead in his parents' bed by his mother after she came home.

Dr Marie-Anne Brundler, a consultant paediatric pathologist at Birmingham Children's Centre, said two-month-old Kieran was a normal weight with no real problems within the few weeks he lived.

The night before he died he was a little restless so he slept in the bed next to his father.

Tests were unable to discover the cause of the baby's death but they ruled out any unnatural elements.

South Staffordshire coroner Andrew Haigh concluded Kieran died of natural causes due to sudden infant death syndrome, or cot death.

Go-ahead set for woodland cemetery bid

COUNCILLORS looked set this week to approve plans for a new £3m woodland cemetery near Rugeley.

The site, which borders the existing Stile Cop Cemetery in Stile Cop Road, would be aimed at people who wish to be buried in natural countryside. Coffins and urns would be made of wood or other biodegradable materials such as cardboard, wicker or bamboo.

The scheme would create 12 jobs and was recommended for approval at a Cannock Chase Council planning control committee meeting yesterday (Wednesday).

The plan was originally rejected on the grounds that the site included an area of ancient woodland.

The authority's ecologist initially feared that burials might damage the root systems of age-old trees but he has since withdrawn his objection.

The proposed burial park forms part of Chetwynd's Coppice with the nearest houses 400 yards away on the Pear Tree estate. It lies within the Green Belt and a designated Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

Nicholas Taylor, managing director Woodland Burial Park, says the concept of such cemeteries was "based around restoring and enhancing the biodiversity of existing woodlands which are currently in poor condition".

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Wolverhampton, Dudley, Cannock, Bridgnorth & Stourbridge areas and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Firm's invitation on repair work at sewage plant

RESIDENTS living near a sewage treatment works in Cannock have been invited to inspect it to assure them repair work has been completed successfully.

Householders in streets close to the works in Longford Road submitted a 200-name petition to Severn Trent Water last summer calling for unpleasant smells from the site to be eliminated. Jenya Taylor, of Mosswood Street, who organised the petition, said they had been invited to inspect the works by Severn Trent on March 18.

The student said there had been fewer smells over the winter, but added residents were still concerned that the problem could recur in the heat of the summer.

Miss Taylor said that in the summer the smell had become so strong that residents were forced to stay inside their homes with the windows closed.

Severn Trent agreed to carry out repair work at the plant and three problem areas were identified. One issue was an uncovered sewage well.

The company initially said work carried out last summer had taken care of the foul smells, but the problem persisted. Some of the residents have been keeping diaries to record times when the foul smells reach their peak.

Miss Taylor said: "We will be inspecting things carefully to make sure they have done what the promised to do. We can't face another summer like last year with the smell day and night," she added.

She said if they were not satisfied following their inspection, then the campaign would continue until the smells had been eliminated for good.

Eatery to open at old pub

A NEW restaurant is to open in Penkridge at the end of this month.

Invited guests will be dining for the first time on March 30 and the grand opening night of the 120-seat restaurant the next day will help raise funds for the charities Bangladesh Water Aid and the Bangladesh Orphans Trust.

Basmati will offer pan Asian cuisine including Indian, Thai and Chinese dishes. Italian food will be on the menu along with fusion dishes and buffets. A dedicated vegetarian menu will also be available.

Basmati will also offer wi fi for clients booking for meetings and conferences. Bookings are being taken for the opening night. at www.basmatipenkridge.co.uk

An outstanding achievement

Katie Winkle celebrates winning the UBS outstanding student of the year at Cardinal Griffin School

A CANNOCK sixth-former has won a national award which recognises students from state schools who have excelled in their exams.

Cardinal Griffin RC High School pupil Katie Winkle, aged 17, was one of 100 students from across the UK honoured at a ceremony in London.

She plans to study engineering at university and wants to work in the car industry. She has been appointed prefect, house captain and head girl and is a member of the school's Irish band.

Head of sixth form Enga McCormick said: "We're absolutely delighted that she was chosen."

The organisers were financial services firm UBS and educational organisation Pure Potential.

Town firefighters warm to admin chief Caroline

Caroline Firkins with her award

AN ADMINISTRATION manager in Cannock has scooped an award for working above and beyond her role in the fire service.

Caroline Firkins, administration manager at Cannock Community Fire Station, won the Leadership Message Award at Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service's Staff MORE Awards ceremony after being nominated by her colleagues.

Mrs Firkins said: "I'm really pleased that I've won, but this is a tribute to the fantastic team I work in. I receive a lot of support and mentoring by my colleagues and I can't thank them enough."

The award cited her as being a positive role model who is pivotal to the success of the area command.

The ceremony, fronted by TV presenter Nick Hancock, was held to recognise and celebrate the teams and individuals who contribute to Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service.

The awards evening took place at The Moat House Hotel at Festival Park, in Stoke-on-Trent, and winners received a certificate and a glass star shaped trophy.

Kick-start offered to young entrepreneurs

MP backing '£10 for mini-tycoon' project

SCHOOLCHILDREN across Cannock Chase are being encouraged to start a business using just £10 by the district's MP.

Aidan Burley has announced his support for a scheme called the Tenner Tycoon Challenge.

The campaigning charity Enterprise UK is to lend hundreds of thousands of pounds to young people across the UK to encourage them to start up their own businesses. The Tenner Tycoon Challenge was launched by Dragon's Den entrepreneur Peter Jones.

Those taking part will receive £10 and be challenged to make as much profit as they can in a month. This year, a theme of the challenge is to give something back. Participants are encouraged to donate some of their profits to charity.

The scheme, supported by the Peter Jones Foundation, has been a huge success since it launched in 2007.

Previous winners have made their money in diverse ways such as fashion shows, cookery books and concerts.

Prosperity

Mr Burley, Conservative MP for Cannock Chase, said: "Tenner Tycoon is an innovative scheme that gives young people in Cannock Chase and all over the UK the chance to showcase their skills and ingenuity whilst gaining practical business experience.

"The programme's relevance and importance has never been as great as it is this year – the year that aims to kickstart the entrepreneurial decade.

"With youth unemployment a big problem in Staffordshire, it is vital that we do all we can to encourage more young people to be enterprising and that starts with a reappraisal of the role that enterprise education plays in making this happen.

"Initiatives like Tenner Tycoon aim to inspire the next generation of entrepreneurs and therefore ensure the future prosperity of the UK."

Mr Jones said: "Tenner Tycoon provides an opportunity to experience business and enterprise first hand and learn about being an entrepreneur."

AROUND THE CLUBS

HEDNESFORD AFTERNOON TOWNSWOMEN

LUNCH at Gordons restaurant within Cannock College in January was an outstanding success with everyone enjoying the food cooked and served up by the students.

Quite a few members had a fun time at the South Staffs Federation games afternoon at St John's Church in Bloxwich.

February's meeting was the silent auction with a rather large accumulation of items for sale.

A grand total of just over £82 was made which will be put towards the Guild's funds. During the usual business part of the meeting Yvonne announced she would be standing down as chairman having enjoyed the position for the last 10 years.

Yvonne accepted a flower arrangement from Melva on behalf of the Guild. She was also presented with gift vouchers from the committee at the last meeting. Doreen will be the next chairman, with Jan taking over as secretary.

Diary Dates: March 16 – Lunch at the Hollybush Garden Centre; March 22 – Film and food at The Grange, Hazel Slade; March 31 – Federation dinner at The Terrace, Brownhills.

The March 14 meeting is the AGM. The Guild will also welcome back Jean Dutton from the Alzheimer's Society who will receive a charity cheque for their research. She will talk about herd and Shirley's coast to coast walk on Hadrian's Wall.

Meetings start at 2pm on the second Monday of each month at St Peter's Church Hall, Church Hill. Call Doreen on 01543 877987 for more.

Coffee morning fundraiser

SOROPTIMISTS

A COFFEE morning held by Soroptimist International Cannock & District raised the wonderful sum of £350 for the Edward's Trust.

Around 40 people gathered at the home of one of the club members to raise the cash for the charity, which offers support to anyone affected by the death of a child.

They drank coffee and tea, ate cakes and biscuits baked by members of Cannock Soroptimists, brought items to sell – and bought others to take home.

Many there took the opportunity to have their jewellery professionally cleaned and so raise more funds for the Trust. Club members provided raffle prizes and everyone was very generous in their buying, particularly after they had heard a little from Jeremy Walker, a Director of Edward's Trust, who joined them for the morning.

Edward's Trust now has a dedicated team offering support to families: they have pioneered a holistic approach to this difficult issue, offering a comprehensive service which looks at the emotional and physical needs of each family member.

Jeremy made himself very popular by not only serving the coffee, but doing the washing up as well.

President Ronnie Reynolds thanked everyone for attending and for being so generous in every way.

ETCHING HILL WI

THE February meeting was a wonderful occasion as the ladies celebrated the 100th birthday of founder member and long-serving President Helen Dawson.

While the evening was planned with great care, it was a complete surprise to her.

Helen has always been interested in antiques, so the evening began with a version of the Antiques Roadshow. Members brought along much loved items from home and an expert from a local auction house explained something of the history and function of each one.

This was followed by sandwiches and cup cakes, washed down with Buck's Fizz. Helen was presented with a unique birthday card designed and created by two members and signed by all. She then cut her birthday cake, made and iced by two further WI members, while the ladies sang Happy Birthday.

Helen spoke eloquently about her time in WI and others spoke briefly about Helen's contribution to village life and particularly her work with the WRVS.

Members were handed a commemorative cookery book, created by Maggie Porter who persuaded everyone to contribute a favourite recipe.

New members are welcome. Visit www.wi-etching-hill.org.uk or call 01889 585505.

NORTON CANES FLOWER CLUB

Practical evening in March

FEBRUARY's meeting at the Methodist Chapel, was opened by chairman Josie Brevitt who gave out the notices after welcoming everyone.

An outing to visit the gardens at Highgrove House has been arranged for August 5.

The practical evening on March 16 will be "Step into Spring" and members can do their own "thing" with help on hand from the more experienced if required.

Also in March meeting Pauline Stabler will tell of her experiences in London when she was one of the finalists for the Daily Mail "Inspirational Woman of the Year". She had a wonderful time and has much to tell about the day.

Josie introduced the demonstrator for the evening, Gail Croxall, whose theme was "A Journey with Flowers".

She took members on a journey in flowers to several places beginning with a suitcase and then to the Emerald Isle, Greece, Madeira, the Far East, and finally to Egypt. All these were represented in beautiful arrangements using many different types of flowers and accessories.

Members were reminded of the Open Demonstration "A Date with Bond" on March 30 with Claire Bond at Norton Canes High School, beginning at 7.30pm and costing £6 for visitors.

Call Marjorie on 01543 279133 for tickets.

Artist's stamp of approval for Royal wedding

The "first class" creation of the Prince and his bride-to-be is made from more than 3,000 postage stamps.

The new 3ft by 4ft picture took two weeks to create, with Mr Mason spending at least six hours a day working on the artwork. His works are created from thousands of used postage stamps, with the largest pieces using up to 20,000.

Knighthood

"I'd see myself as more of a royalist than a Cromwellian I suppose, and of course I'm angling for a knighthood as well," joked the grandfather-of-two.

The picture is due to go on display in The Art Gallery in Tetbury, Gloucestershire, just a few hundred yards from Prince Charles's famous Highgrove residence.

Trader fears humps will deter customers

A VILLAGE trader says plans to install new speed bumps and chicanes could spell the end for shops in Heath Hayes.

Mike Smith, of Lyndhurst Road, Heath Hayes, says village shops are "doomed" to become deserted shops. He claims traffic calming measures, which he describes as a "commercial euthanasia project", are wholly unnecessary on Hednesford Road.

He said: "There have been no recorded pedestrian or vehicle collisions in the last 16 years on Hednesford Road, there are no court records of any driver being prosecuted for a moving traffic offence in the last 10 years on Hednesford Road."

Mr Smith says he also worries that traffic calming measures will slow down emergency vehicles and funeral cars will look "undignified" as a hearse drives over the bumps on the way to a funeral.

He said there were many more places in the area which would benefit from speed restriction measures.

"Traffic calming is required in the Heath Hayes and Wimblebury area, Cannock Road and John Road where fatalities have occurred, or are waiting to happen outside the junior school.

"A referendum was taken to vote on traffic calming measures,last year, but, reminiscent of Russia in the Cold War years, no independently assessed results were published – and I thought we lived in a democracy.

"If we are to have traffic calming measures, remove the double yellow lines on one side of the road,it's worked in Brownhills and a lot cheaper than building humps and chicanes."

The proposals are due to be decided later this month.

Miss Teen Queen entrant Lucy Billings

Lucy aims for top billing in contest

A RUGELEY schoolgirl has made it through to the national semi-finals of a beauty contest.

Lucy Billings, a 16-year-old Hagley Park Sports College GCSE student, has entered the Teen Queen competition and was surprised to make it as far as the quarter finals.

Now she needs public votes to go on and win the title. She said: "I would love to be a model."

For information about the competition, visit www.missteenqueenuk.com

To vote, text 'Lucy Billings' to 81319 (texts cost 75p) or call 0900 5938000, number 39, to register the vote.

Dancer's towering ambition

Strictly Come Dancing fan Megan Collins, whose ambition is to become a professional dancer, has qualified for the finals of the International Dance Teachers' Association nationwide medallist of the year competition. It takes place at the seaside town's Winter Gardens on April 2 and 3. Megan, aged 12, and her dance partner Janine Parry from Burntwood will be competing in the Latin and ballroom classes after winning IDTA heats for the second year in a row.

They have qualified ranked number one. Megan is a pupil at the Brian and Angela Mills School of Dance and has lessons for several hours a week.

She is also learning freestyle, street and rock 'n' roll dance styles and is part of the dance school's teams as well.

Megan, who attends Chasetown Specialist Sports College, has been dancing since she was five.

This year she has won three Midlands medallist of the year competitions for the second year in a row and finished second in another.

Home-made soup on offer at church

A HEDNESFORD church is hosting a fundraising home-made soup and lunch drive every Friday for the next month. Food will be available at Our Lady of Lourdes, in Uxbridge Street until April 8 from noon until 1.30pm.

There is no fee, but donations are encouraged. A charity handbag auction takes place at the church's Centenary Hall, this Saturday (March 12) at 7.30pm. Tickets are £3 on 01543 509330.

Changes to allowance worry autistic boy's mother

Fears for son's future amid benefits reform

A HEDNESFORD mother says she is worried about her autistic child's future because of government plans to reform disability benefits.

Angela Rushton, of Stafford Lane, says changes to Disability Living Allowance could mean people with autism are not given enough support.

The benefit could be scrapped and replaced with a new payment, meaning claimants will have to be reassessed.

Mrs Rushton fears assessors won't understand the complexities of the condition. Mrs Rushton, whose nine-year-old son Thomas is autistic, said: "Unless assessors have specific training in the condition, it is very likely the needs of people with autism will be misunderstood or overlooked.

She added: "People shouldn't have to go through a face-to-face assessment if they already have sufficient evidence about their autism from previous assessments. People with autism experience a variety of difficulties with daily life.

The Government must make sure that these are reflected in the new assessment. Assessors must be trained so that they understand autism and how to talk to someone with autism, and can make a fair assessment of that person's needs."

Last summer the Government announced that £1 billion was to be cut from spending on Disability Living Allowance over the next three years.

The Government has proposed replacing the benefit with a new payment called Personal Independence Payment.

The proposals will be debated as part of the Welfare Reform Bill which Secretary of State for work and pensions Iain Duncan Smith is piloting through Parliament.

While the changes only affect adults, Mrs Rushton is concerned about her son's future as he grows up.

Thomas, who attends St Joseph's Primary, in Hilltop, is doing well academically, but struggles with the emotional side of life.

Mrs Rushton is urging others, particularly those with first-hand experience of autism, to take action by getting in touch with their local MPs to make their voices heard.

MP gets skates on

The Tory MP is having an ice dancing lesson from head coach Natasha Fennell-Owen at Silver Blades Ice Rink in Bridgtown on Friday, March 18. Mr Burley is looking for a sponsorship.

Silver Blades staff are hosting a special event to celebrate Red Nose Day with fun and games on the ice from 4 to 5.30pm, with prizes for the best fancy dress.

There will also be bucket collections and red noses will be available to buy. Admission is £4.50 to the 4pm-5.30pm session with £2 going to Comic Relief. For details call 01922 419594.

Playing it for laughs

AUSSIE comic Yianni Agisilaou will be the headline act at a comedy night in Hednesford next month.

The Antipodean funnyman will top the bill on Friday, April 1 at Keys Park, home of Hednesford Town FC.

Compered by Bryan Lacey, the night will also see stand-up performances from Mark Felgate and Steven Hall.

Organisers Ugly Duckling events hope the show's success will lead to more regular dates.

Tolkien director writes to library

OSCAR-winning director Sir Peter Jackson has penned a letter to Penkridge Library.

The New Zealand-born film-maker, famed for bringing the Lord of the Rings trilogy to the big screen, has personally written the letter on hearing the Bell Brook library is holding an exhibition on the author JRR Tolkien.

Jackson is currently working on The Hobbit which will be a prequel to the successful trilogy. He said he was pleased to hear that the tribute exhibition was being staged.

In the letter, Jackson thanks the library for its dedication in celebrating Tolkien and his works, and educating people about the author and his connections to Staffordshire

He says: "I am very pleased that you have taken it upon yourselves to join with the community of Tolkien fans around Britain and the world, to celebrate and education people in all matters Tolkien."

County councillor Pat Corfield, cabinet member for culture, communities and customers, said: "It was a huge but pleasant shock for a small village library to get this personal backing from an international film director, especially as he is currently busy filming in New Zealand.

"To have an Oscar-winning director show their support, especially one so intrinsically linked with Tolkien's works, is absolutely fantastic.

"The letter from Sir Peter will be taking pride of place in the library along with other items from their Tolkien collection, and I'm sure It'll be something that will attract visitors from all over the country, not just Staffordshire."

Visitors celebrate the work of author

A CELEBRATION of the life and work of fantasy author JRR Tolkien was held at Penkridge Library.

During the First World War the writer of the Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit trained for the trenches at an army camp on Cannock Chase.

The landscape of the Chase is widely thought to have influenced his vision of Middle Earth.

First World War re-enactors turned out for the event at the library, in Bell Brook. The fun day on Saturday (March 5) included a craft workshop, fantasy war gaming and painting of miniature figures.

Darts ace and pupil score a double to win

A SCHOOL darts team was cheered on by professional player Mark 'Mile High' Hylton when they stepped up to the oche.

Hagley Park Sports College took on Hednesford Valley High School on home turf and came out 7-3 winners.

Both teams were delighted to have the support of Hylton, Rugeley, who and recently competed in the PDC World Darts Championships.

Hylton gave the youngsters a game and then tested them on their maths skills.

Hagley Park head Liz Merryman said: "It is wonderful for our darts team and that of Hednesford Valley High to have the continued support of professional darts player Mark Hylton.

"He has been a real inspiration to the students, who follow his career closely.

Within the Hagley Park team is a potential successor to Hylton's mantle as the best player in Rugeley – 12-year-old Danny 'Dan the Man' Williams.

As well as being part of the Hagley team, Danny recently won the under-14s prize at the recent British Darts Organisation (BDO) Leicestershire Open.

Successes

In the final Danny hit several 140s and came away with a resounding 4-0 victory to lift the title.

Mrs Merryman said the whole school was proud of Danny's remarkable achievement.

"Well done to Danny and to all the players in the darts team for their recent successes," she added.

"The students and I also send special thanks to Hazel Southwell for giving up so much of her free time to coach the students and organise matches.

Secrets of the Nile pyramids

YOUNGSTERS at a Great Wyrley school stepped back in time as part of their Egyptian humanities project.

Moat Hall Primary was visited by the Wolverhampton-based Timezone education company so the children could experience the Land of the Pharaohs.

All 75 pupils in Year 6 took a step back in time as Timezone provided costumes for all the children and organised a day of activities.

Keith Prosser, from Timezone, said: "During the morning the children were involved in the religious ceremony of weighing the hearts which the Egyptians used to do to release the soul to the next life.

"Then they played ancient Egyptian games.

In the afternoon, the children became Egyptologists, looking at and drawing ancient artefacts, learning how to measure using ancient methods, and translating hieroglyphics.

Learning all about Egypt at Moat Hall School in Great Wyrley are Ben Malpass, bottom), (aged 11) with Elise Bennett (10) and Elliot Kelsey (11)

Variety night for villagers

The show includes songs, sketches, and magic, and several new members are set to make their stage debuts.

The variety night will be held in the Peace Memorial Hall, Pinfold Lane. Doors open at 7pm and the show begins at 7.30pm.

Tickets are £5 each and can be bought on the door or in advance from Whitehouse Pharmacy, in Market Street, or by calling Anne Smith on 01785 715120.

Penkridge Amateur Dramatic Society has been entertaining the people of Penkridge since 1959.

Over the years the members have presented plays ranging from thrillers to comedies.

Waste burner 'fines' threat for taxpayers

JUST 18 per cent of Staffordshire's waste will be sent to the Four Ashes incinerator – leaving space for 250,000 more tons of refuse every year.

And the county council could face a penalty. Taxpayers will have to pay if the county is "fined" by operator Veolia for being unable to fill the 300,000-ton yearly capacity.

More than 70,000 tons of waste is already contracted to go to the Poplars landfill site in Cannock every year until 2020.

The council could fill the incinerator with waste from elsewhere in the UK.

Featherstone and Shareshill's Councillor Bob Cope said South Staffordshire faced a no-win situation.

"Taxpayers run the risk of losing money if the county council cannot fill Four Ashes, and if they do it means everybody else's waste is being dumped on us.

"Wolverhampton has an incinerator and we have one. But areas like Shrewsbury, Walsall and Sandwell are leaving it to other areas to sort out."

He added that plans for an incinerator in Cannock would leave the two sites competing for waste. Four Ashes is set to power Featherstone jail, the i54 Business Park at Fordhouses, and more than 32,000 homes.

Disney Lunch Bag from Lakeland

YOUNGSTERS will be cool for school with these fun and funky lunch bags.

The Japanese doll design is part of the new and exclusive Character Lunch Bags range from Lakeland. They can choose between the dolls or robots and there are also matching Character Drinks Bottles.

The lunch bags have an insulated storage compartment and wipe-clean inside. They cost £6.99 each. The 400ml drinks bottles cost £4.99 each.

Or for devotees of the magical kingdom, there is the new Disney Lunch Bag (Lakeland, £8.99) featuring a cute retro image of Mickey and Minnie Mouse. It's also insulated and wipe-clean. A co-ordinating 500ml Disney Bottle (£5.99) is also available.

Keep sweets or other nibbles fresh with Vacu Vin's PopSome storage bowls.

The air and water-tight flexible lid can be pulled out with a pop to create an opening through which to serve the contents of the 500ml capacity bowls.

Then pop it back to keep the contents at their best.

Vacu Vin's PopSome dishes are available from Lakeland for £6.99. See www.lakeland.co.uk or for further stockists call 01299 250480.

Greatest hits from the top of PopCap

PopCap Hits! (3, Pop Cap)
Pop Cap Hits Vol 2 (12, Pop Cap)

POPCAP are the leading brand in puzzle games across the platforms, from PC to mobile phone via Xbox Live Arcade. These two selections of their best sellers doe Xbox 360 now allows non-XBLA subscribers to get their hands on some of the best 2D time-wasters around.

PopCap Hits 1 features that mother of all addictive puzzle games Bejeweled, albeit in its slightly tweaked Bejeweled 2 form. The gem swapping game is a classic. The other games include the equally addictive Peggle, which blends Pinball with Breakout; Feeding Frenzy, 50 levels of a fishy battle for survival; and mildly diverting also-ran, Astro Pop, a block swapping exercise.

PopCap Hits Volume 2 (released on March 11) boasts Plants Vs Zombies, one of the most popular casual games around, probably second only to the all-conquering Angry Birds.

Plants Vs Zombies, most recently a big hit on Xbox Live, is basically a tower defence game but with yourself and neighbour Crazy Dave protecting your property from the living dead via thoughtfully positioned foilage.

It's a real brainteaser delivered with macabre humour. Also in the four game package are Feeding Frenzy 2, if the original 50 levels were not enough for seafood chompers; the classic Zuma in which a ball spitting frog has to fend off an implacable flow of coloured balls by matching three in a row; and frenetic shoot-em-up action in Heavy Weapon.

It adds up to the better of the two PopCap compilations.

Leon Burakowski

Just Dance 2 (3, Ubisoft)

THE sequel to one of the Wii's most popular dance games stays top by keeping things simple – you simply mirror the moves of the silhouetted dancer on screen whilst holding the Wii -mote in the highlighted hand.

There is a super selection of music, ranging from The Pussycat Dolls to The Rolling Stones, and a new Duets mode allows two to perform complementary moves, or two pairs in four-player mode.

Michael Jackson The Experience (12, Ubisoft)

Dance like the King of Pop to a selection of his original hits. Getting started was a bit fiddly because of the back and forth to the menu when checking out the dance instructor introductions but you don't need their advice. Go straight to the songs and it is simple to follow the Jackson stand-in as he takes you through those familiar signature moves, so I guess the 12 rating is due to the old Jacko groin grab move?

Soon you will be shuffling like a zombie through Thriller or stepping to the familiar beat of Billie Jean. The actual videos are not used but the dance routines keep true to the style of the originals as you try to score points by copying them as faithfully as possible.

Up to eight can play by passing the Wii-mote. Get that moonwalk right and you really could be starting something.

Dance Juniors (3, Ubisoft)

Similar to Just Dance but more for little kids with nursery rhymes and children's songs alongside favourite pop covers. LB

Dreamcast Collection (12, Sega)

AAAH, the Dreamcast. Many fans of the best console of the 1990s will forever bear a grudge against Sony for the, then, inferior PlayStation's victory in the console wars, which persuaded Sega to give up hardware and become a content provider only.

Maybe that's why so many Dreamcast refugees became ardent Xbox supporters. So many former Dreamcast fans were delighted to hear that some of the obsolete system's games were being ported to Xbox 360, originally via subscription service Xbox Live Arcade.

Four of them are selected for this compilation, available for X360 and PC, but it's not an entirely happy package. Like watching a favourite kids' TV show decades later, the passage of time shows up the flaws. Also the fact that you have to reboot the disc to swap games is a chore.

Then there are problems with the transfer. Crazy Taxi is still great fun and has that 'Beetlejuice' style voiceover but misses the original soundtrack featuring such 90s punk favourites as The Offspring.

Sega Bass Fishing, the arcade angling game, isn't quite as much fun without the fishing rod controller that came as an accessory for the Dreamcast.

Better served is Sonic Adventure, which is much as I remember it, a blue blur. Also good is Space Channel 5, the quirky Japanese dancing game where you have to remember combinations of button pushes. LB

NEW ALBUMS

Streetwise diva makes her debut

Jessie J - Who You Are

ESSEX'S answer to Rihanna and Pink, Jessie 'J' Cornish, hits the big time in her own right with this album, after writing hits for others, including Miley Cyrus's Party in the USA.

You will, in all probability, be very familiar with Price Tag by now and it is one of several contenders to make this Brit winner the biggest new star of the year. Her brand of sassy streetwise diva pop is right on the money and exactly the kind of pop that makes big money now. She's doing it, dude.

Jessie J also has a gig in Birmingham next month, at the O2 Academy on April 2.

Glee: The Music, The Rocky Horror Glee Show – Glee Cast

Another mini-album with tracks for a special themed episode of the hit American TV musical drama. Now in season two, Glee the juggernaut sees no signs of slowing but this, and the paltry Christmas album, do raise quality control issues.

The songs are done pretty faithfully to Richard O'Brien's originals but having a non-drag Frank N Furter (only Amber 'Mercedes' Riley had lungs big enough for the job) undermines the entire venture, and John 'Carl' Stamos can't hold a candle to Meat Loaf's original version of Whatever Happened To Saturday Night? Pity they can't do the Time Warp and rethink this one.

Good Ol' Fashioned Love – The Overtones

Bland but pleasant harmonious pop-rock 'n' roll from a group of five men who were 'discovered' when working as painters and decorators on London's Oxford Street. Includes such doo-wop favourites as Sh'boom and Why Do Teenagers Fall In Love? The Overtones follow this debut album with a tour include a gig at Birmingham's HIV Institute 'Library' room on March 25.

Let England Shake – PJ Harvey

War, what is it good for – absolutely nothing. A case made over and over again by Dorset's Polly Harvey in her collection of songs dealing with soldiering and Britain's military past (and present).

Rock and antiquated instruments are featured on songs that sometimes, at their best, have the feel of ages old folk ballads. Her songs are not about a home for heroes but remember that apparently peaceful landscapes were once drenched in blood.

Images from the trenches are conjured, sometimes in gory detail, with the most memorable being that of a soldier's corpse hanging on barbed wire.

Intense but heart-felt. LB

Eliza hopes to do a lot

ONE of the brightest British pop breakthroughs of 2010 was the delightful Eliza Doolittle with her self-titled debut album, which was back in the top 10 last week despite being released last summer.

Her breezy freewheeling retro pop has more hooks than a fishing tackle shop and the latest track to be released as a single – Mr Medicine – follows the success of Skinny Genes and Pack Up.

Real name Eliza Sophie Caird, the 22-year-old is the grand-daughter of Sylvia Young, famous for her London theatre school. Her father, John Caird, is a director with the Royal Shakespeare Company and her mother, Frances Ruffelle, was the original Eponine in West End blockbuster Les Miserables. So there must be something in those genes, skinny or otherwise.

In the autumn she achieved that rare feat for a support act at Wolverhampton's Civic Hall when she got a full house for her short set before headliner Paloma Faith, and the London-born singer and model will have a capacity audience again when she performs at the city's Wulfrun Hall on Saturday, April 2.

Old punks ready to be heroes to more

ONE of the most influential bands of the punk era, The Stranglers, are back on the road. The rock veterans, who in the 70s widened the musical horizons of punks with their tracks rich with keyboards as well as aggressive energy, issued a greatest hits plus new tracks double album recently, Decades Apart, that serves as reminder of their impact on the British music scene.

The band formed in Guildford, Surrey, in 1974, though none came from the town and they were an odd assortment of classically trained guitarist, jazz drummer and blues musicians, united by an appreciation of psychedelic rock groups like The Doors. They became one of the biggest bands of the punk era with a hardman image and songs such as Grip, Peaches/Go Buddy Go, Five Minutes and No More Heroes.

They then went on to have massive crossover success in the 80s with a mellower sound typified by Golden Brown, Strange Little Girl, Skin Deep and Always The Sun.

The Stranglers

The band's original singer Hugh Cornwell quit the group to go solo in 1990 and Paul Roberts was the singer during the rest of that decade. He left in 2006 for an acting career and is now working as a Frank Sinatra impersonator.

The Stranglers are now a quartet featuring originals Jean-Jaques Burnel (born in London to French parents) as singer and bassist, keyboardist Dave Greenfield and 72-year-old drummer Jet Black, with Baz Warne, singer and guitarist with the band since 2000. They are in concert at Birmingham's O2 Academy on March 19. Their former frontman, Hugh Cornwell, is also on tour soon playing Wolverhampton's Slade Rooms on April 15.

The popular trip down memory lane including music hall favourites such as The White Cliffs of Dover, The Lambeth Walk and of course Roll out the Barrel.

The show has been produced by Terry Bradford and Sussie Arvesen who are songwriters, record producers, sessions musicians and jingle writers.

Terry represented the UK in the Eurovision Song Contest in 1978 as a member of pop group Co-Co. He has written songs for artists such as Johnny Mathis, the Fureys and Gary Wilmot.

Roll out the Barrel takes place at the Cannock Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, on Wednesday April 27, with tickets costing £12 for adults and £10 for concessions.

A spokesman for the centre said: "Roll out the Barrel is a feast of non-stop nostalgia featuring over 65 songs that you know and love.

"You'll be singing all the way home."

The Big Ballet – back at the Garrick on March 31 and April 1

Double dose of variety

Double Dose Theatre Company, formerly known as Ambient Night Productions, will be at the Prince of Wales Centre on Friday 8 and Saturday 9 April, starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets for the show are £10 and can be booked by phoning the Church Street Centre's box office on 01543 578762.

Parental discretion is advised as some acts contain strong language and adult themes.

Bultitude's in on the act as Phil Collins

And Finally...Phil Collins has carved a reputation as one of the finest Phil Collins tribute acts on the live circuit.

The show's previous two tours concentrated on the Phil Collins Farewell Tour, but this latest performance will replicate the 1990 Serious Tour.

Songs in the two-hour show will include Against All Odds, One More Night, Can't Stop Loving You, Another Day in Paradise, Easy Lover and In the Air Tonight.

Tickets for the show, which is at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, on Friday May 6, are priced at £15 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01543 578762.

THE Big Ballet is returning to Lichfield, as graceful as ever, with a new show.

The world-famous Russian ballet company, where the dancers each weigh a minimum of 15 stone (lighter than previous years), is in the UK for the third time and they'll be performing 39 dates. Comprising 16 female dancers The Big Ballet has toured the UK twice before in 2007 and 2008, at a time when the average weight of the dancers stood at a fraction under 20 stone.

Larger-than-life dancers perform to more contemporary music, such as Robbie Williams, Tom Jones's Sex Bomb and Go West by Pet Shop Boys, even performing to one number in silky, buttock-less outfits.

Tickets for The Big Ballet, which comes to the Lichfield Garrick Theatre on Thursday March 31 and Friday April 1, can be booked by calling 01543 412121.

A TOE-TAPPING comedy is sure to get audiences in the groove when it comes to Cannock for four nights later this year.

Anything Goes, by Cole Porter and performed by the Aldridge Musical Comedy Society, is at the Cannock Prince of Wales Centre from May 11-14.

The show includes songs such as I Get a Kick Out of You, It's De Lovely, Anything Goes and Blow Gabrial Blow. It's said to be a classic boy meets girl tale as they fall in love and live happily ever after, but with a few twists and turns along the way.

TAKE ME OUT
ITV1, 9.05pm

Modern-day Cupid Paddy McGuinness has struck totally gold with his neon-lit, over-the-top, bawdy dating game show. It's a pre-pub guilty pleasure of a Saturday evening, as he attempts to match-make among some of the nation's zanies singletons. For the uninitiated, a bloke stands in front of a gaggle of 30 (mostly) gorgeous, drinking ladies and does everything he can to stop them extinguishing their lights and bowing out of the running in the race to win his heart. After much probable embarrassment, the leading lady is chosen, and the newly formed couple heads off to the island of Fernando, hoping there'll be more than just mosquitos in the air.

TOP GEAR
BBC2, 8pm

So that was series 16 of Top Gear, the run in which a new Stig was born – and turned out to be rather similar to the last one; John Prescott went head to head with Jeremy Clarkson, and James May drove Nasa's latest Space Exploration Vehicle – rather badly. The special guests also proved to be great fun. Aside from plugging new movie Paul, Simon Pegg and Nick Frost took to the track as Stars In Their Reasonably Priced Car, and there was no shortage of great challenges either, such as Clarkson using a Jaguar XJ to race against the rotation of the Earth; the trio's Albanian jaunt, testing the Rolls-Royce Ghost, Bentley Mulsanne and Mercedes-Benz S65 AMG.

Scott on spot to find local bands

JOHN PRITCHARD talks to Emma Scott about her mission to find new talent.

A Devon-based DJ has made a Wolverhampton venue her second home as she bids to find the best new talent coming out of the Midlands.

Emma Scott is on the hunt for the next Robert Plant or Slade and has appropriately made The Slade Rooms the home for her Emma Scott Presents series of gigs.

The gigs, which are also staged in Birmingham, aim to give local bands more exposure and the chance to gain new fans.

She has now released a book and given a seminar on how to 'break your band' in the music industry.

She said: "I receive hundreds of band's demos every month, and there are some really good ones out there. This is a way of making sure they do the best they can."

Emma Scott moved down to Devon in 2009 to continue her radio career after leaving Birmingham-based Kerrang! Radio after five years, which is where she got her taste for the Midlands music scene. Her first Emma Scott Presents gig was at the Little Civic in Wolverhampton in 2007. The gig series was originally going to be once a month, but has now grown to around six times a month, which means a lot of travelling for Emma.

She said: "I spend a lot of time on the M5, travelling to and from all my gigs, but it's all worth it."

Her first seminar, called Break Your Band, was held at The Slade Rooms last month, and around 80 people heard the speech she gave about the music industry from the promoter and DJ's view.

Feedback

She said: "The feedback I received from the seminar was amazing. I didn't think that many people would turn up and we had a lot of people from bands saying I talked about things they never realised before."

Her book, Break Your Band – A Guide to Getting Radio Airplay, will be available to buy from Amazon next month and advises bands how to put together the perfect press pack, rules of the radio, which presenters play unsigned music and how to get on a station's playlist.

She said: "I hate the thought that bands are wasting their time by sending the wrong material, or missing valuable airplay as they've sent their CD to the wrong address, or offended the DJ by spelling his or her name incorrectly.

"As a presenter I get a real buzz when I get a great press pack in the post, and I get even more excited when the quality of the band is great too! I love the thought that the bands will be listening to their songs on the radio, and try and imagine how great that must feel."The book contains quotes from Kurt Cobain, Hunter S Thompson, Paul McCartney, Jon Bon Jovi, Van Morrison, Elvis Costello and Lou Reed, which help show what the music industry is really like.

Emma said: "I guarantee any band who read the book and who follow my guidelines will get radio airplay – as long as their music is good, that is!"

The 39-year-old has been working in radio for 23 years and has received thousands of demos in her time at various radio stations, including Heart FM and Galaxy.

Last November, her most successful gig to date came when Voodoo Johnson headlined at The Slade Rooms.

The five-piece from Birmingham have gone on from strength to strength, from supporting 80s-rock band Europe, of Final Countdown fame, to headlining their own UK Tour, which visits Wolverhampton Slade Rooms on April 24.

Another success story is The Whiskey Syndicate, a rock foursome from Wolverhampton who headlined an Emma Scott Presents gig at The Slade Rooms at the beginning of February, and released their EP, Stick or Twisted? earlier this year.

Speaking of The Whiskey Syndicate, Emma said: "These guys are someone to look forward to. I've worked with them a few times and they're great."

The Emma Scott Presents gigs stopped for a brief period as she relocated to just outside Exeter, but were relaunched again in April last year as another success story, The Lines, brought the series back in style.

Since the relaunch, The Lines have gone on to headline the Wulfrun Hall, release their debut album and support local favourites Ocean Colour Scene.

Emma is looking forward to a busy future, with the hope that many of the bands she has nurtured will go on to become staples of the music industry, and, no doubt, there are likely to be more books in the pipeline.

ONE quarter of the biggest band ever – former Beatle Ringo Starr – brings his own all-star group for a rare concert appearance at Birmingham Symphony Hall on June 20. Tickets are priced £55 and £60.

CO-CREATOR of The Office and Ricky Gervais's partner in comedy Stephen Merchant brings his Hello Ladies tour to Wolverhampton Civic Hall on November 5 for a special show which is being recorded for release on DVD and Blu Ray. Tickets are £27.50.

THE TREND for bands performing their 'classic' albums continues with Birmingham's Ocean Colour Scene performing Moseley Shoals from start to finish at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on December 9 (tickets £24.50) and a week later The Wonder Stuff performing Never Loved Elvis in its entirety at Birmingham's O2 Academy on December 15 (£20).

FREEFALL Dance Company present Seaside Rendevouz: A Tribute To Freddie Mercury at the Patrick Centre in Birmingham Hippodrome on Thursday, March 15. It is the talented company's first work choreographed to rock music and takes inspiration from both the music of Queen and the saucy humour of old fashioned seaside postcards. Call 0844 338 5000.

Toploader, who had a massive hit in 2000 with their cover of Dancing In The Moonlight, are back together and touring again. The Eastbourne band, who split after the demise of their record label in 2003 despite selling a million copies of their debut album Onka's Big Moka, will release their third album, Only Human, in May. Their tour includes a date at the HMV Institute in Birmingham on Saturday, March 19.

PLAN B
WOLVERHAMPTON, CIVIC HALL

The Defamation of Strickland Banks became a reality last week as singer Plan B brought his story of wrongdoing to the Civic Hall. Opening with Writing's On The Wall, the sixth single off his album, the London crooner confirmed his transition from bad-boy rapper to soul superstar.

The singer, real name Ben Drew, played a set full of songs off his second album, which tells the story of the fictional singer Strickland Banks, who is jailed for a crime he didn't commit. Songs such as Welcome to Hell, The Recluse and Traded In My Cigarettes document Banks's struggles with coping in jail, while covering up the sadness with shimmering Motown grooves and crooning soul vocals.

The risky move from underground rap to Northern Soul-fuelled pop proved to be a clever one for the singer, as the crowd sung every word of singles She Said and Love Goes Down.His encore picked up the tempo as he did a medley of soul songs, which he said were for the "older crowd".

Jon Pritchard

NE-YO AND TREY SONGZ, BIRMINGHAM NIA

Trey Songz opened with a performance that appealed to the ladies. Having released four albums, he might not yet be a household name, but he certainly had the crowds on his side.

Performing covers and his own songs, including the lead single Bottoms Up from – a collaboration with Nicki Minaj from his latest album Passion, Pain and Pleasure he proved to be an excellent show man.

Talented female dancers kept the main man company on stage, performing both provocative moves and skilled ballet steps.

Ne-Yo said: "I've heard that Birmingham's where the party's at."

This proved to be true as most of the fans spent the whole performance on their feet dancing to hits like So Sick and Beautiful Monster.

With the crowds screaming for more, he ended with an encore of Closer. Trey songz will be back in the UK at O2 Academy Birmingham on April 25.

CRANFORD
THE GRAND, WOLVERHAMPTON

This costumed comedy set in the insular world of Cranford is inhabited by a group of repressed, gossipy, snobbish and class-ridden women whose biggest dilemma to date is working out how to address a countess.

The cast, lead perfectly by Kathryn Dimery as Miss Matilda Jenkins, go through the motions of Victorian living seeking to keep the status quo of Cranford until circumstances overtake them and make them re-evaluate their social priorities.

The wonderfully dressed women live in the fearful shadow of offending the sensibilities of domineering matriarch The Honourable Mrs Jamieson played with suitable starch by Hildegard Neil. Throw into the melting pot a maid with ambitions, a widowed countess who causes a stir and you have a jolly almost farcial show which produces one liners such as "You can't beat a bit of bondage to keep you warm".

Cranford runs until March 12

Danny Farragher

LA FILLE MAL GARDEE, BIRMINGHAM HIPPODROME.

This old favourite from the Birmingham Royal Ballet repertoire delighted audiences with its fun and frolics.Despite its French origins, this was a tale of merry olde England with maypole dancing, harvest festivities, a rustic clown, a clog dancing dame and even giant chickens.

Frederick Ashton's 50-year-old version is an escapist rural fantasy, certainly a tad twee but warmly received by audiences that appreciated its humorous good nature and vibrant energy. Jamie Bond danced powerfully as the young farmer, Elisha Willis was vivacious as his sweetheart and American dancer Mathias Dingman a superb clown as her clumsy suitor. But all were upstaged by the cast's one non-dancer, a white Shetland pony.

Leon Burakowski

ELAINE PAIGE, B-HAM, SYMPHONY HALL.

More than 30 years a showbiz diva, Elaine Paige proved that she's still the little lady with the biggest voice with her two-hour concert at Birmingham, which was completed by a standing ovation for the essential encore, Memory from Andrew Lloyd Webber musical Cats.

She had been in character to recall her greatest stage successes, including Evita and Norma Desmond from Sunset Boulevard. Other highlights included her version of Mike Batt's Closest Thing To Crazy, new song It's Only Life (written for her by Gary Barlow and Tim Rice and sung with impressive newcomer Hermione Hennessy) and a showstopping I'm Still Here from Stephen Sondheim's Follies.

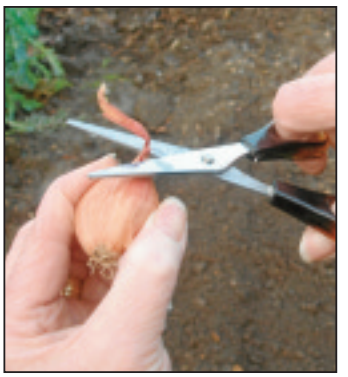
Pot potatoes allow home-grown for all

When you get your potatoes home, set the tubers out in egg boxes or the bottom of a seed tray and keep them somewhere in good light that is cool and frost-free such as a windowsill to produce sturdy shoots ready for planting out later into large pots or gro-sacs

At the end of the month enrich the soil with Miracle-Gro Slow Release Plant Food and plant out shallots and garlic cloves in a sunny warm position. To help ensure a good crop snip off any dead stems close to the onion bulb so that birds will find it more difficult to pull them out.



HOME-GROWN potatoes are enjoyed by most gardeners nowadays as you can buy half a dozen tubers at a time and you don't need allotment space in which to grow them.

Potatoes grow quite happily in large pots or Miracle-Gro Potato gro-sacs placed on a sunny patio or balcony.

Buy your favourite varieties of seed potato from your local garden centre in February before they sell out. Popular earlies' include Pentland Javelin, Rocket or Duke of York.

Always remove potato tubers from the netting bag they have been supplied in immediately.

If you allow the shoots to grow through the netting they will be snapped off as soon as the bag is opened. When you get your purchase home, set the tubers out in egg boxes or the bottom of a seed tray and keep them somewhere in good light that is cool and frost-free.

This technique, called chitting, will encourage the potatoes to produce sturdy shoots ready for planting out later.

It's not too early to sow seeds of tomatoes, especially those for growing in a greenhouse or conservatory. While you will be able to buy seedling plants of common varieties such as Alicante and Moneymaker from your garden centre in April, it is much more difficult to find ready-grown plants of unusual varieties such as Incas and Roma (early-ripening plum-shaped continental variety) or Beefeater and Brandywine (giant 'beefsteak' variety).

These are the types to sow yourself, so you have the plants you need to tantalise your family's tastebuds.

For great results sow in Miracle-Gro Gro Your Own Seed & Cutting Compost and keep in warm conditions on a windowsill so that they don't grow too leggy after germination.

Cover spring cabbages with fleece to encourage new growth and to protect them from pigeon damage.

■ Words and pictures supplied by Scotts Miracle-Gro Company. Always read the labels and use pesticides safely.

Topical tip

On Offer at Satchwell Grange: Three Bedrooms, Two En Suites And Four Wheels...

Bloor Homes is a builder known for the high specification of its homes, but at its Satchwell Grange development in Wednesbury it is going one step further by offering a stylish new car free with one highlighted plot. As well as getting three bedrooms and a garage, the purchasers of the development's Leybourne view home will get four wheels in the form of a Mini 'First' worth nearly £12,000.

The free car is the brainchild of the sales team at Satchwell Grange, who were looking for something a little special as an added incentive on this elegant new home.

Sales advisor Cheryl Nock says: "With this home, you get everything - a superb range of accommodation in a well-designed layout that gives you optimum space and style. As this has been our view home, you also get carpets, light fittings and a garden that is already turfed and fenced, so it was a case of 'what else could you ask for?' We decided that the answer was a new car to go in the garage. What could be better than the combination of a brand new house and a brand new car?"

The home chosen for this special offer is a two-storey, three-bedroom semi Leybourne priced at £149,950. It has a generous range of accommodation, with a spacious well-fitted kitchen/breakfast room, and a spacious lounge on the ground floor and 2 bedrooms and family bathroom on the first floor. The master bedroom is a particular feature of this home, with an en-suite shower room, one double wardrobe, plus an additional single.

Satchwell Grange is situated in a very popular residential area in Wednesbury, which is close to both Darlaston and Wednesbury shopping areas. It offers a choice of three and four and five-bedroom homes with something for everyone from the first-time buyer to the family looking for more space. On the current release, prices range from £145,950 for a three-bedroom semi to £299,950 for a five-bedroom detached home. There are excellent local facilities, with shops within walking distance, plus a choice of good schools in the area. Wednesbury has close links to the M6 so is perfectly placed for commuting.

HomeofProperty - the key to finding your next home
Searching for a home has never been easier.

Brought to you by the Express & Star

NATIONAL Homebuilding & Renovating Show spokesperson Jason Orme explains five ways to make both short and long term savings:

1. Insulation – With up to 33 per cent of the heat produced in your home lost through your walls, cavity wall insulation is something to consider.

2. Solar heating – installing solar energy can make you a saving of around £65 per year on your energy bill.

3. Water recycling – Water recycling methods can save between 30-50 per cent of a home's water requirements.

4. Lighting – Energy-saving light bulbs can last up to 10 times longer than ordinary bulbs can save you up to £40 per year.

5. Secondary glazing – Installing a secondary glazing system costs as little as £700 with savings of around 40 per cent to your energy bill each year.

PERMITTED development rights allow changes to be made to buildings without having to apply for planning permission.

In 2008 these rights were clarified and extended to cover more household building projects.

"Projects under this banner now include extensions and conservatories; loft conversions; solar panel fitting; roof alterations and patios and driveways as long as they meet certain conditions for example the dimensions and positions of extensions. Check these out at www.planningportal.gov.uk/permission/responsibilities/planningpermission/permitted

"However, do keep in mind that permitted development rights do not apply to flats, maisonettes or other buildings and that in some areas of the country, known generally as 'designated areas', they are more restricted. If you live in a Conservation Area, a National Park, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty or the Norfolk or Suffolk Broads, you will need to apply for planning permission for certain types of work which do not need an application in other areas. Listed buildings too have different requirements.

"Before making an application, consult with neighbours who might be affected by your proposal as well as the local parish, town or community council, to take their views into account.

"And in the more complicated cases, it's wise to consider consulting other bodies which might have an interest, such as the Environment Agency and local water and sewage companies to do with any potential flooding issues; the Highways Authority with regards to road safety and traffic; and the Health and Safety executive to look at possible dangerous material being used in the construction."

"As with all building work, the owner of the property or land in question is ultimately responsible for complying with the relevant planning rules and building regulations.

"So it is always an extremely good idea to discuss your plans, whatever they are, with the relevant local planning authority and building control service (which depends on the region and environment you live in) before starting any work.

"If a person carrying out building work contravenes the building regulations, the local authority or another person may decide to take them to the magistrates' court where they could be fined up to £5,000 for the contravention and up to £50 for each day the contravention continues after conviction (section 35 of the Building Act 1984).

"This action will usually be taken against the builder or main contractor, and proceedings must be taken within two years from the completion of the work.

This cost of planning applications is not massive, but all applications are different and it is difficult to give hard and fast prices.

However, an outline planning application to extend an ordinary house in England is likely to cost £135. The Government's planning portal has an online charges calculator, which work out the cost of any particular planning application for householder developments.

Sally will be at The National Homebuilding & Renovating Show, NEC Birmingham 24-27 March 2011, where she will be presenting seminars on the subject of planning permission, talking about how to get consent for your dream home, and how to make the system work for you.

She will also be available for individual consultations which will be free of charge and can be booked at the show.

1 For more information and tickets, visit www.homebuildingshow. co.uk or call the ticket hotline on 0844 581 1377. Tickets are £10 in advance or £14 on the door (children under 16 go free)

Spacious house is on a big corner plot

AN ATTRACTIVE detached three-bedroomed house, situated on a corner plot is available in Ten Butts Crescent, Stafford.

On the market for £199,950, the property is accessed via the A449 Wolverhampton Road.

Pass through Rising Brook and Moss Pit and a short distance before the railway bridge turn left into Gravel Lane where Ten Butts Crescent is the third turning on the left and the property is located on a corner plot fronting both Gravel Lane and Ten Butts Crescent.

On the first floor there is two further bedrooms and a refitted bathroom with P-shaped bath.

Vacant possession is available on completion.

The 508 is a desirable, capable saloon

We'll do our best to steer well clear of national stereotypes for obvious reasons, but to give credit where it's due the best French cars are decidedly, well – French.

If you pick through the highlights of Peugeot's back catalogue, the more they have stuck to their guns rather than trying to chase the approach of rival manufacturers, the better the end product.

By mutual agreement the 205 of 1983 is regarded as the finest Peugeot of recent times, blessed as it was with a pretty body, simple interior and a sweet driving experience.

Wagons

But Peugeot also enjoys a reputation as a maker of fine mid-sized saloons and wagons, with the 505, 405 and recent 407 being the pick of the bunch.

It is the job of the 508 to take on that mantle, a difficult task given that it has to please the Gallic purists who want to see a floaty ride and a quirky cabin as well as tempt those who are on their fifth German saloon in as many years and are quite happy, thank you very much.

It is a fierce market to compete in with manufacturers fighting over a gradually falling number of buyers.

But thankfully the Peugeot artisans have taken the holistic approach to the problem and decided that their own way is the only way.

First impressions confirm that this is a truly modern Peugeot, much in the spirit of the 3008 crossover in that it steadfastly refuses to simply follow existing trends.

The shape has presence and an unmistakable style: this could not be confused with the product from another country.

The Peugeot badge takes pride of place on the distinctive nose while the slim windows and gently curving shoulder line give it more of a coupe look – something that will no doubt be met with enthusiasm by potential owners.

There are LED lights at the rear too, designed to look like claws on the saloon, all of which adds up to a quality feel. Quality is clearly a priority on the inside too and it is pleasing to see smart new switchgear deployed on the dashboard.

Console

A large screen sits at the centre of things with the main controls on the centre console, while the usual clever arrangement of buttons on the steering wheel mean everything is within easy reach. Add in the head-up display that's already been put to good use elsewhere in the Peugeot range and the 508's cabin has plenty going for it – not least an abundance of space for front and rear occupants.

Although not available on the saloon, it is worth mentioning the panoramic glass roof available on the SW version which runs almost the length of the car and provides a wonderfully airy feeling for passengers.

ROAD TEST
Peugeot 508

Wishbone

Unlike all of its rivals there are two types of front suspension design depending on the specification of the car, with the higher end versions gaining a more sophisticated double wishbone set-up.

However, you need not feel short-changed if you go for the lesser version: despite the clear advantages on paper, the simpler front strut layout delivers such a good balance between sharp, consistent responses and a fluid ride that you'll forget all about the next model up.

Just like all the best Peugeots the 508 breezes along even more challenging roads and is happy to waft when required to do so.

With high levels of noise insulation and even the more humble four-cylinder diesel unit up front there is very little to disturb cabin occupants.

Better still the 508 is just as happy to play in the bends, providing resolute grip and a forgiving nature.

There can be no question that the 508 has to face off against some very tough opposition.

But the great news is that this is the most convincing response to its rivals, and building on the strengths of the outgoing car has resulted in a complete, desirable and capable saloon that will give private and fleet buyers something to think about. MATT JOY

Mini returning to roots with new Rocketman

THE NEW Rocketman concept car sees Mini returning to its roots with a more compact model closer in size to the 1959 original.

The concept, displayed at the Geneva International Motor Show, is "small on the outside but big on the inside" as designers have striven to make the best available use of space.

The Rocketman is around 11ft long and seats three adults plus a child while retaining the fun-to-drive handling ability that characterises the brand.

It implements the traditional principles of the classic Mini with a lightweight construction and innovative seats and doors, along with the use of groundbreaking technologies for connecting its occupants with the outside world.

The concept is an agile three-door car which offers comfortable accommodation for the driver, front passenger and another passenger, and can add a fourth individual seat in the rear if necessary.

The capacity of the luggage compartment can be adapted to the passengers' requirements just as flexibly.

Drawer

The two-part tailgate consists of one section which is attached to the roof and opens extremely high and a lower section which extends out of the body in the form of a drawer.

The hallmark Mini design language is present in the exterior design with large headlights and the chrome-bordered radiator grille dominating the front end.

Large wheels and a boxy shape give the concept the same appearance as the Mini models already in production. The transparent glass roof is segmented by illuminated braces to recreate the look of Britain's Union Jack flag.

The control concept for the Rocketman also sees the brand exploring new directions. The customary centre speedometer houses a projection surface boasting 3D graphics presentation capability. This allows information particularly relevant to the driving situation to be displayed in the foreground.

Seven-seater Prius is set for a 2012 release

THE NEW Prius+ has made its debut at the 2011 Geneva motor show, representing further expansion of Toyota's Prius family.

It's the first full hybrid model in Europe to offer seven seats, combining family friendly versatility with strong environmental performance and advanced technology.

As its name suggests, Prius+ provides a significant increase in space and passenger accommodation compared to its sister hatchback model. There are three independent, split-folding second row seats and a 50:50 split-folding third row. In spite of the increase in size, it retains the fundamental performance benefits associated with Prius, including the lowest fuel consumption of any seven-seater on the market.

Set to go on sale during the first half of 2012, Prius+ is a new vehicle, designed from the ground up. Its exterior represents an evolution of the established Prius design, rather than simply being an elongated version of the standard model.

The look of the new car is characterised by its extended roofline with an integrated panoramic sunroof. It retains the Prius triangular silhouette and achieves a low Cd 0.29 drag coefficient.

The trapezoidal front end incorporates sharp-edged headlamps, flat, vertical 'aero' corners that reduce air turbulence, and an enlarged lower grille to improve aerodynamics and engine cooling.

Intricate

Prius+ is equipped with the latest generation of Toyota's Hybrid Synergy Drive and is the first Toyota non-plug-in hybrid to use a lithium-ion battery pack.

The compact dimensions of this battery – first introduced in Prius Plug-in – allow it to be contained entirely beneath the second row seats, which means loadspace and interior flexibility are unaffected.

As in the standard Prius, Prius+ features three 'on-demand' drive modes so that capabilities of the hybrid powertrain can be fully exploited. EV mode allows the car to be driven on electric motor power alone, resulting in zero fuel consumption and tailpipe emissions; ECO mode maximises hybrid system efficiency and fuel economy, while POWER mode sharpens response and boosts performance.

Toyota also aims to put the electric Prius Plug-in on sale in the second half of 2012 and in preparation for this around 600 vehicles are currently taking part in demonstration lease programmes worldwide, including 20 in London.

This innovative format – which has already been engineered for production – promises best-in-class access to the cabin, together with unmatched convenience and flexibility.

The innovation continues inside the cabin, where the interior offers exceptional space and versatility for such a compact vehicle. The use of high quality materials shows that small, practical cars can also be comfortable and well-equipped.

Stephen Odell, chairman of Ford of Europe, said: "The new B-Max signals that Ford is ready to bring the same bold thinking to the small car market. With its unique door format and dynamic design, the B-Max sends a strong message that customers looking for a compact, stylish and versatile vehicle will soon have an exciting new choice."

Based on Ford's global B-car platform – shared with the highly successful new Fiesta – the B-Max is slightly more than four metres in length, just 11cm longer than the Fiesta five-door.

With this compact footprint, the B-Max is ideally placed to meet the fast-growing demand for downsized cars which are better suited to congested urban conditions, but without sacrificing interior space and comfort.

With both front and rear doors open there is outstanding access to the interior, with a huge, clear aperture measuring over 1.5 metres wide. This is around twice the width offered by competitors with alternative door concepts, making it significantly easier to enter or exit the rear seats, attend to children in child seats, or load shopping.

Having folded the 60/40 split rear seats and the front passenger seat to create an extensive flat load floor, the side access is particularly convenient to load bulky items such as flat-pack furniture or even a bicycle. Loads up to 2.35m long can be stored in the car.

The B-Max is powered by an ultra-low-CO2 powertrain, featuring a state-of-the-art three-cylinder 1.0-litre Ford EcoBoost petrol engine equipped with the Ford Auto-Start-Stop system.

Kia showing off new Rio

Kia's all-new fourth-generation Rio, revealed at the 2011 Geneva Motor Show this week, boasts a bold and distinctive personality, bringing the latest model into line with the rest of the Korean firm's striking design-led product range.

Given the job of improving on the international sales success of the previous generation Rio, Kia's engineers and designers have created a new model designed to appeal to consumers' aesthetic tastes.

However, the car will also drive sales through its low running costs and class-leading CO2 emissions – with target figures for the model range starting at just 85 g/km.

Since its launch in 2005, global sales of the third-generation Rio have totalled more than 860,000 units. It was the company's third best-selling vehicle in overseas markets during 2010 with sales of more than 219,000 units, sales in the UK total 52,626 units.

Segment

Manufactured for the first time with a choice of five-door and three-door body styles, the new Rio is set to completely redefine its position and Kia is confident of capturing a larger share of the growing B-market segment.

To lower fuel consumption and help achieve the Rio's class-leading emissions, Kia engineers have carried out an extensive programme to shed weight across a broad range of components. As a result, although the new Rio is a significantly larger car than the third-generation model with extra equipment, its weight-gain has been kept to a minimum.

The five-door version of new Rio will go on sale in the UK from September with the all-new three-door model on sale from early 2012. Both versions will be manufactured exclusively at Kia's Sohari plant in Korea.

This new car is no evolution of its predecessor, it is a revolution. The bold and distinctive personality of the new Rio represents a complete departure from its predecessor and fits perfectly into the revitalised new family of Kia products.

Viewed head-on, new Rio has its own unique interpretation of the Kia corporate grille which is integrated with the front lamps to create a new twist on the Kia family look.

With the introduction of the new Rio, the Kia product portfolio has just taken the next important step towards becoming a family of vehicles which has an attractive and coherent brand style but still manages to retain individual product character.

Sophisticated and spacious interior

To complement the striking exterior, Rio's interior design has also been transformed, with a clean sophisticated theme. The concept follows the corporate Kia interior philosophy with the characteristic horizontal instrument panel, accentuating the feeling of width and space.

As in other recently-launched Kia models, the signature interior architecture – with its 'three cylinder' instrument cluster, precise instrument graphics and clear functionality – has been retained. New for the Rio, however, are the centrally-located toggle switches, which are neatly integrated into the central heater unit, and control some of the secondary functions. The sophistication of this interior concept is also reflected in the breadth of trim options which give the car a genuine premium feel. The bespoke feel of the interior underlines the new focus for Rio as a mature and compact premium car.

The new Rio's cabin is more spacious, while the 70 mm longer wheelbase and 25mm wider bodyshell bring space benefits for all occupants and luggage capacity. The boot space is 100mm wider and the capacity is now 288 litres – a seven per cent improvement over the previous model.

Cabin storage includes a larger, 15-litre glove box, a larger centre console with 3-litres of extra capacity and pockets to hold a 1.5-litre bottle in the front doors and a 0.5-litre bottle in the rear doors.

Efficient

Optional features available on new Rio cars for the UK market will include smart-key entry system, RDS radio CD player with MP3 compatibility plus AUX, iPod and USB connections, Bluetooth handsfree (with voice recognition available from December 2011), climate-control air-conditioning, heated front seats and LED daytime running lights.

In the UK the new Rio will offer customers a choice of four highly efficient three- and four-cylinder engines – with a 70-109PS power range – and a CO2 base-line rating from just 85 g/km, plus fuel consumption as high as 88.3 mpg.

In many countries, diesel power is the preferred option in this segment and Rio will be available with two versions of Kia's U2 power unit. The 1.4 litre generates 90PS and 216 Nm of torque, while the 1.1-litre produces 70PS and 162 Nm. Both engines deliver maximum torque from just 1,750 rpm.

Meanwhile, the new Rio's suspension and running gear has been developed from the previous model to carry over its predecessor's responsive handling while improving stability, ride quality and refinement – in line with heightened customer expectations.

The Trade and Upgrade Programme enables eligible customers to obtain a minimum part exchange value for a qualifying vehicle when purchasing a new Hyundai at a participating authorised UK Hyundai dealer by 31st March 2011. The £3,000 allowance offer is for the purchase of a new Hyundai i30, the £2,000 allowance offer is for the purchase of a new Hyundai i20 and the £1,700 allowance offer is for the purchase of a new Hyundai i10, excluding i10 Classic that qualifies for a £1,500 allowance. The scheme is subject to the terms and conditions of the programme – see www.hyundai.co.uk/tradeupgrade or ask your local dealer. Offers are subject to availability and may be varied or withdrawn at any time and cannot be used in conjunction with any other offers. Warranty terms and exclusions apply – see www.hyundai.co.uk/owners/0YearWarranty/ or ask your local dealer. Pictures for illustration purposes only. Metallic paint at extra cost.

Fuel consumption in MPG (l/100km) for Hyundai range: Urban 25.9 (10.9) - 61.4 (4.6), Extra Urban 39.8 (7.1) - 74.3 (3.8), Combined 33.2 (8.5) - 67.3 (4.2) CO2 Emissions 225 -110 g/km.

General market models (such as the Peugeot 207CC or Mazda MX-5) and premium models (such as the BMW 3-Series or Audi A4) hold onto an average of 42 per cent and 45 per cent respectively after three years.

In comparison, compact MPVs (such as the Renault Scenic) and upper medium cars (such as the Ford Mondeo) retain an average of 33 per cent and 32 per cent of their value after three years, respectively.

As the British weather improves, buyers will once again be tempted by the open-top motoring afforded by a convertible and trade values are set to experience double-digit increases.

In January 2010, the average auction price for a general market model was £6,900, but by April, the average price had increased to £8,000, representing a 16 percent rise for the quarter.

The effect was even greater in the premium convertible market, where the average auction price of £12,650 in January 2010 rose to £15,525 by April 2010, representing an increase of 23 percent over the three months.

Savvy buyers have begun to arrive on the forecourts already, and they will benefit from lower prices just before the seasonal uplift becomes apparent.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer.
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

HIGHWAYS ACT 1980 – SECTION 90A
HEDNESFORD ROAD, HEATH HAYES

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Staffordshire County Council proposes to construct, in accordance with Section 90A of the Highways Act 1980 and Section 23 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the above measures for the purpose of calming traffic speeds. The proposals are detailed below:-

Raised Table Junctions, approximately 75mm high:

Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes – at its junction with Langholm Drive. From a point approximately 14 metres south-east of the junction, extending approximately 39.5 metres in a north-westerly direction and extending approximately 10.5 metres into Langholm Drive.

Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes – at its junction with Gorsemoor Road and Highfield Road. From a point approximately 11.5 metres south-east of the junction, extending approximately 27.6 metres in a north-westerly direction and extending approximately 6.6 metres into Highfield Road and approximately 9.5 metres into Gorsemoor Road.

Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes – at its junction with Lyndhurst Road. From a point approximately 9.5 metres south-east of the junction and extending approximately 19.5 metres in a north-westerly direction and extending approximately 6.5 metres into Lyndhurst Road.

Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes – at its junction with Gladstone Road. From a point approximately 9.5 metres south-east of the junction and extending approximately 18.5 metres in a north-westerly direction and extending approximately 6.5 metres into Gladstone Road.

Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes – at its junction with Bank Street. From a point approximately 11 metres south-east of the junction and extending approximately 22 metres in a north-westerly direction and extending approximately 7.5 metres into Bank Street.

Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes – at its junction with Stafford Street. From a point approximately 10 metres south-east of the junction and extending approximately 21 metres in a north-westerly direction and extending approximately 7.5 metres into Stafford Street.

Priority Build-outs:

Full details of the proposal, which, together with a map showing the area and position of the traffic calming measures may be inspected during normal office hours at my office and during normal opening hours at Heath Hayes Library, Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes.

If you wish to object to the proposals you should send the grounds for your objection in writing, indicating the locations to the undersigned not later than 2nd April 2011 quoting reference HoHM/MJH/CDL4225.

Date: 10th March 2011

Catherine Raines, Director of Place & Deputy Chief Executive, Highways, Riverway, Stafford, ST16 3TJ

Elite fighter now Open champion

KARATE

The club took part in the UK open championships – in conjunction with the English Karate Federation – at the Crystal Leisure Centre, in Stourbridge on February 20.

Hill came back with a second place in the kumite (fighting), second in kata (forms) and another runner-up place in the team kata

Carr was the individual kata winner, becoming the UK Open champion, was third in the kumite and was part of the team kata runners-up.

Another team kata members was Fiona, who also landed a third in the fighting category, while young Nicci came third in her fighting discipline.

In all, there were more than 600 competitors on the day including teams from the official England, Wales and Scotland squads.

Instructor David Hill, a 3rd Dan at Elite Shotokan Karate Club, said: "We have competed at many tournaments over the years but we have recently joined the English Karate Federation and this meant a step up in standard and I am really pleased to come away from such a big competition with trophies.

"There really were some top class athletes on show with international experience and we held our own and matched them for quality."

He added: "The students have been training for this tournament since December. its a massive achievement for everyone involved in the Elite and proves that the club on the whole is progressing in the right direction.

"My club is only four years old and yet already we can boast black belts and competition winners.

"We have a broad spectrum of people training at the Elite. Men and women are welcome and children as young as five can start training with us."

The club trains twice weekly and is based in Essington. Richard Hill is currently training with the England squad and will be selecting for the England fighting team in September.

Both Mike Carr and Fiona Plater are going on to England Regional training. Anyone is interested in training is asked to contact David Hill on 07890646921.

CANNOCK CHASE FOOTBALL LEAGUE by TIM ELSMORE

HOLDERS Belt Road knocked out Beacon Way in Premier League Cup semi-finals and will now defend their trophy with a final tie against Pelsall Bush.

First half goals by Dean Watkiss and Reece Baker were enough for Rugeley Utd to beat Alma 2-1 in the Premier League.

Red White & Blue climb to second in Division One by beating The Dog 3-1. Third placed St Matthews drew 3-3 with Ridware Oak.

In Division Two, third-placed Bar Sport beat second placed Colliers Arms 3-0. Jamie Chapman bagged two and Hewey Lewis one to help close the gap to five points with a game in hand in their push for promotion.

Crystal Fountain beat Victoria Ath 3-1.

Cup finalists Legion beat Royal Oak 7-1. Royal Oak took the lead on five minutes but goals by Andy Grew, Shaun Moor two and four from Adam Walters completed the win.

AFC Littleton beat second placed Bridge in Division Three 2-0 to dent their title hopes. Mitch Preece and Scott Manicius.

Division Five leaders Cannock & Rugeley just beat the Hen House 1-0 thanks to a first half goal from Lee Jones.

Forest Rangers beat Marina 3-2. First half goals from Ben Patten, Joe Carpenter and Chad Brown put them three up.

Churchill Vic beat Noah's Ark 5-2. Dan Frisby and Nick Pilditch bagged two each with Thomas Southall adding one. White Hart beat Globe 4-0, while AFC Winding Wheel beat Turf by the same scoreline.

Third division Littleton knocked out Premier League Winding Wheel to record a big upset in the Cannock Chase Cup quarter-final. Richard Tapper scored in 90 minutes to take the game to extra time and then scored again to make it 2-2. With penalties looming, Saul Stocking banged home the winner with the last kick of the game.

Fixtures for Sunday, March 13

ANGLING by VERNON LEADBETTER –

Sponsored by Archline

Angling, coarse, carp, game & sea fishing tackle stockists

DESPITE the blustery conditions anglers fishing the recent Blackfords AC match at Calf Heath Reservoir had plenty of sport with the top five all weighing in more than 30lbs.

Winning honours went to Simon Farmer with a 48lb 5oz net of bream, second was Kevin Tipton with 45lb 9oz and third and fourth went to Jason Hickenson and Steve Preece with 42lb 9oz and 41lb 3oz respectively. There were plenty of bream caught up to 4lbs using swimfeeder with groundbait and maggot .

Blackfords have recently stocked Leacroft Pool with 500lb of skimmer bream to complement last season's stocking of tench and roach. Most pools in the area have been producing some fish, providing you can locate them. Fish are still tightly shoaled and a roving approach until you start getting bites has proved far more successful than sitting it out and waiting for the fish to find you! It will certainly get easier if the mild spell continues!

At Coppice Lane pools in Hammerwich, Becketts and Bridge Pools are both fishing very well with most carp on Becketts being caught in the margins and at 5m in the shallower water on corn and small carp and bream feeding well on Bridge pool, falling to expander pellet or maggots fished over a small bed of pellets.

The Midlands trout reservoirs will be opening during the next few weeks and I will keep you updated on our local one, Blithfield, as we get the catch reports.

The small trout waters have been fishing well, and customers that have visited Seighford Lakes Stafford and Fisherwick have all caught fish.

The shop at Loynton Trout fishery, previously run by Orvis, is being re-opened by ourselves and in addition to fly fishing equipment there will be a comprehensive range of country clothing.

Our fly casting lessons will now be held there and we will be offering follow up courses covering the actual fishing aspect.

Fishery owners, if you would like a mention, please contact us and all you anglers . . . if you have an up-to-date "fishy story" to report please contact Vernon at Archline Angling on 01922 411205, call into the store or email fish@archlineangling.co.uk

Support for club won't go Amiss

CRICKET

FORMER England batsmen Dennis Amiss will be lending a hand as a cricket club gets to work on its new ground.

Whittington Cricket Club is hosting the NatWest CricketForce weekend on Saturday and Sunday (March 19/20).

Preparations are in hand to complete work on a new ground and pavilion and up to 100 volunteers, supported by professional expertise, are expected to muck in, from erecting sightscreens, laying the car park and painting fences.

Amiss will be joined on Saturday by members of the Staffordshire management team and England Women's all-rounder, Danielle Wyatt before she heads off to India with the England Women's Academy.

The club is appealing for donations of materials from kind-hearted local businesses or members of the public.

To offer support or for further information, contact Barrie Taylor on 01543 418242 or at barrie.taylor@talktalk.net

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

Cresswell Wanderers celebrate their success

LICHFIELD CITY 2 HEDNESFORD TOWN 3

Hednesford Town played local rivals Lichfield City in the Staffs Cup quarter final and in a good close game it was Town who came out 3-2 winners.

The game was evenly matched throughout with both teams creating and missing chances, but Hednesford edged the game with goals from joint Man of the Match Sam Pugh (2) and Connor Shingler to put them into the Staffs Cup semi-final. Adam Weldon was also named as Man of the Match.

Hednesford Town are looking to start a new team for under-13s for the season 2011/2012 and are looking for players moving up to School Year 8 in September.

The club is also looking to strengthen our existing squad for Hednesford Town Harriers u-11s. Anyone who is interested ring Jason Jones on 07974101537.

RUGELEY RANGERS 0 CANNOCK TOWN U-14 8

BURNTWOOD DRAGONS U-10 2 CHASETOWN SCHOLARS 0

A tougher game than the reverse fixture two weeks beforehand, Scholars had a point to prove and made it hard work for the Dragons to break in the first half.

However, a tactical half-time switch saw Man of the Match Sam Astle move from central defence to midfield and within minutes he had given Burntwood the lead with a well taken effort. Matty Cartwright wrapped it up in the last 10 minutes.

BEACON COLTS 0 CANNOCK TOWN U-9 JUNIORS 2

BREWOOD COLTS 2 CRESSWELL WANDERERS U12 4

From the first minute Colts looked the better side and were desperately unlucky not to score mainly thanks to Cresswell goalkeeper Ben Harris.

Wanderers grabbed a quick double by half time through Jack Dunn and Nathan Griffiths.After the break Brewood did what they have done so many times this season bringing the scores level through two well worked goals.

BOLDMERE FALCONS 3 CHURCH FARM WHITES U-9 1

Whites took an early lead as the Boldmere keeper fumbled a speculative shot from Charlie Jennings but Boldmere composed themselves and the equaliser came just before halftime .

More goals for Boldmere eventually came and it was a morning to forget for Church Farm.

League leaders Chase are chasing glory on all three fronts and are also in the semi-final of the cup.

CASTLE VALE 2 CHASE ATHLETIC U-12 BOYS 3

BROWNHILLS COLTS 0 HEDNESFORD UTD U-11 GIRLS 4

Hednesford worked hard for this win, delivering a very solid and competent performance. Lois Brindley returned in fine form to bag a hat-trick with her third goal the pick of the bunch.

Hednesford United are looking for girls in school Years 3 and 4 for next season's under-10s. Contact Dave on 07919 105630 for more details.

HEDNESFORD UTD GIRLS U-13 4 BROWNHILLS COLTS 0

After 15 minutes, Charli Philpott took a shot which ran across the Brownhills keeper into the back of the net. After half time, Hednesford maintained the pressure and Philpott lobbed in a second.

Philpott and Georgia Clarke were players of the match.

CHASETOWN U-12 1 MILFORD 0

In a game that saw neither side at their best, Chasetown came away with the points after Player of the Match, captain Molly Heele threaded a superb long ball through to Rhiannon Winwood who took it on into the box to score early in the first half.

WYRLEY JUNIORS U18 GIRLS 7 LIGHTWOOD FOLEY LADIES 5 – COUNTY CUP SEMI-FINAL

An epic encounter saw the lead change hands four times before Wyrley finally forced their way through to the final after extra time.

Wyrley were quickly into their passing game and after spurning a number of chances, found themselves 2-0 down with Lightwood's only two meaningful forays into the Wyrley half.

Back came Wyrley with another goal from Shorrock and a second for Clews to surely secure a final place? But with seconds remaining another defensive lapse led to an equaliser to send the game into extra time.

Pictured are the under-9s Colts side created from children attending a Chasetown Soccer School held om Saturdays at Burntwood Youth Centre The side have kicked off this season in the Lichfield & District Recreational League. The Soccer School takes place from 10-11am for boys and girls teams aged up to under-10s. Six new teams created from the Soccer School will be playing in the Lichfield League next season. Call Nick Dunn on 07730 487650 for more details.

Mayleigh's form is key to success

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS

ERDINGTON GIRLS 0 LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U-15 3

Diamonds were on the attack from the whistle and within three minutes Paige Cartwright had opened the scoring.

One of the main reasons to Diamonds recent run of from has been the performances of right winger Mayleigh Harper and she put her team two goals in front with a clinical strike.

Dominating the second half the visitors could have increased their lead several times and only had a Caitlin Harper goal to show for their efforts.

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U-12 4 BARTON ROVERS GIRLS 0

Playing the same opposition for the second time in two weeks is never easy, but with four different goalscorers, Diamonds showed just how hard they worked for each other, deservedly claiming all three points.

WEDNESFIELD TOWN GIRLS 1 LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U-11 1

CANNOCK 1ST XI 0 LOUGHBOROUGH STUDENTS 1ST XI 2

Victory would have also seen Cannock push themselves closer to Loughborough in an attempt top bring other teams into the relegation dogfight.

Sadly for Cannock it proved another difficult day as the home side failed to hit the heights of previous performances as injuries and exhaustion began to take their toll. Silly mistakes and missed chances saw Cannock slip to a 2-0 defeat as the students gave Cannock a lesson in clinical, chance taking hockey.

With results going for them Cannock remain two points above rivals Brooklands in the fight for survival and with three games to go Cannock remain in control of their own destiny but this weekend's trip to bottom side Canterbury is getting more important by the second as Cannock look to retain their National League status.

CANNOCK HOCKEY CLUB

from their home victory against Leek seven days before, they were brought down to earth with a bump.

Having beaten Edgbaston earlier in the season the Cannock side felt cautiously optimistic that they could delay the inevitable crowning of Edgbaston's 4ths as League champions.

They knew what they had to do, they knew how Edgbaston would try to attack and they had a game plan. Unfortunately the game plan got no further than the changing rooms as tight, hardworking, controlled hockey of previous weeks had gone walkabout. Cannock trailed by three goals at half time, though it was not all one way traffic as they had several short corners and attempts on goal. However the Edgbaston side spread the play and opened up holes in the Cannock defence.

Cannock lost shape, their work ethic and an ability to play simple hockey and the interval score was added to with another four goals. Edgbaston were worthy winners of the league, but watching their celebrations came as a bitter pill to swallow for the Cannock players.

ASHBY 3RD XI 5 CANNOCK 5TH XI 6

In a high-scoring game Cannock made hard work of beating Ashby 3rds in a mid-season friendly fixture. In a tight first half that saw Karl Bayliss score a good team goal after a great ball by Dean Carmichael, Ashby equalised.

But the second half was a different story. Played at a frantic pace, nine goals were scored, with Ashby taking a 5-3 lead.

However, two goals for Loz Perry, single strikes for Paul Martin and Tim Butler and another Bayliss strike saw the visitors fight back to win 6-5. Cannock did not play at their best but still showed glimmers of what they can do.

A short trip to RAF Cosford to play a strong Wolverhampton side on a damp Saturday afternoon saw both teams play quality attacking hockey.

Callum Stacey gave Cannock the lead after about 20 minutes of the first half with a good strike. Wolverhampton pressed but didn't trouble James Macpherson in the Cannock goal.

The second half saw Wolverhampton start stronger and from a short corner, they found an equaliser. As the game went end-to-end the two defences cancelled out the opposition forwards.

CANNOCK LADIES 3RD XI 1 LICHFIELD LADIES 2ND XI 0

Cannock Ladies 3rd team played host to third placed Lichfield 2nds in an entertaining game at Chase Park on Saturday morning.

Saturday saw a turning point in Cannock's season as they showed qualities that were not present at the start of the campaign, fighting hard ti retain the lead following a goal from captain Kate Richards – her third goal in as many games. After game came the realisation that results had gone for them and Cannock sat in eighth place – their first move up the table since October.

CANNOCK LADIES 5TH XI 1 TAMWORTH LADIES 3RD XI 0

OTHER RESULTS: CANNOCK 2ND XI 5 BARFORD TIGERS 2ND XI 0; CANNOCK 2ND XI 5 BELPER 2ND XI 1; CANNOCK 3RD XI 3 LEEK 3RDS 0; CANNOCK 7TH XI 4 BARLASTON DRAKES XI 3; CANNOCK BADGERS 'A' 12 FINCHFIELD BADGERS 0; CANNOCK BADGERS 'B' 0 STONE BADGERS 3; CANNOCK LADIES 1ST XI 4 BROOKLANDS LADIES 1ST XI 2; CANNOCK LADIES 2ND XI 0 BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY LADIES 3RD XI 1; CANNOCK LADIES 4TH XI 1 NORTH STAFFORD LADIES 2ND XI 3; CANNOCK LADIES 6TH XI 2 WOLVERHAMPTON LADIES 4TH XI 1

Cannock Juniors enjoyed a great day out at Chase Park, home of Cannock Hockey Club on Sunday afternoon (Match 6) when a Mini Hockey Festival was organised. Cannock put out a mixed u-8s and u-10s side and both a boys and girls u-12s sides.

The youngsters enjoyed a great day playing Lichfield, Belper, Wednesbury and Streetly and along with all the other teams, the games were played in a great spirit.

BARTON UNDER NEEDWOD 24 RUGELEY 22

RUGELEY made the short trip Barton on Saturday (March 5) for what has proved to be a very evenly matched game in recent seasons.

The visitors were keen to make a big impact in the first few minutes but it was not to be as, after a catalogue of errors Rugeley found themselves seven points behind.

Rugeley's centres went straight through the opposition, allowing Ceiron Griffin to score in the corner for a well taken try. Matthew Willis-croft then crashed over.

With a narrow half-time lead, Rugeley were expecting a tough half and it did not disappoint. Barton immediately started on top and dominated possession. Rugeley's insistence on kicking the ball away caused them problems and they forgot the structure of the first half.

Barton came back with a well taken try and conversation. But it was the story of missed chances for Rugeley with both kicks and tries going astray.

Man of the Match was Sam Cotter

Rugeley's second team managed to sneak a 10-7 victory over Barton 2nds in an encounter dominated by the forward. Kirk Jones scored the try and Adam Grocott kicked a penalty. Rugeley thirds lost 37-7 to Trentham.

This week sees Rugeley 1sts at home to Cannock, the seconds travel to Cannock and the thirds take on Bloxwich seconds in the merit league.

Phil Round scored the 100th fourth team goal, capping an excellent performance against a strong South Notts Team. David Eastland opened the scoring following some fluent passing moves.

STREETLY 3 LICHFIELD MENS 7TH XI 2

BARTON 2 LICHFIELD MENS 8TH XI 1

Lichfield travelled to Barton and were quickly a goal down. The team started to pass the ball and a cross from Will Hollis was swept into the net by Jamie Ward.

In the second half Jared Cordes broke away to score and Lichfield held on to record a victory.

LICHFIELD MENS 9TH XI 4 OLD WULFS 0

LICHFIELD LADIES 1ST XI 2 BOURNVILLE 1

Lichfield began nervously, but soon started progressing, and building play like they have done so many times this season.

The tables then turned just before half time. Zoe Lowe was forced to make several quality saves that kept Lichfield in the game and it was goalless at half-time. Midway through the second period Bournville were gifted a sideline ball and took advantage of the self-pass to pounce on a slow Lichfield defence, and scored.

LICHFIELD HOCKEY CLUB

Lichfield picked themselves up, and from a short corner, the ball was pushed out by Jenny Rodgers and skilfully placed through to a waiting Carol Rodgers, who laid the ball off to a Nicky Mills. She placed the ball into the top right hand corner for the equaliser. As tension mounted, a Bournville player who had previously been given a green and yellow card was awarded a red card for a retaliation offence on a Lichfield player.

Lichfield are now seven points clear at the top of the league ready to face Tamworth on March 12 needing only three more points to win the league with two games in hand.

LICHFIELD LADIES 4TH XI 5 LEEK 4THS 0

At half time the score was only 1-0 but a further four were added by the final whistle. Goals were scored by Rachael Swailes, Imy Dean, Lauren Foulds, Lindsey Evans and Captain Hatty Cavill.

LICHFIELD LADIES 4TH XI 1 BELPER 4THS 0

In their first match of the 2010/11 season the 4ths were beaten 3-0 by Belper. This was the return match and the tables were turned as Lichfield came away with a 1-0 victory. The goal was scored by Becky Wright after a cross from Karen Geldard Williams.

Congratulations to Lichfield under 18 Girls who beat Maidenhead to make it through to the final of the English Hockey Plate to be played on Sunday, April 9 at Bowden Hockey Club.

RUGBY

RUGELEY sealed the Staffordshire under-14s shield with an emphatic 38-10 victory over Eccleshall.

Rugeley needed to win to clinch the title and got off to a try scoring start when Sam Beattie received the ball on the half way line to charge through the Eccleshall defence and score. Ryan Williams kicked over a tricky conversion.

Rugeley scored another quick try to go into a 14-0 lead. before Eccleshall got back into the game with a well worked try as the number eight took the initial ball in before it was fed out to the winger to score in the corner.

Rugeley appeared to lose confidence and Eccleshall seemed to be back in the match. However Rugeley quickly turned defence into attack and Arek scored under the posts after good work from Liam Squire. Ryan Williams converted to make it 21-5.

Rugeley again started well in the second half the ball was quickly shipped through the hands of Williams and Joe Burns to Sam Beattie who again charged through the Eccleshall defence this time from his own half.

Once again Eccleshall showed fighting spirit and hit back immediately with a try of their own to make it 28-10.

If anyone is interested in joining Rugeley u-14s train on Thursdays at St Augustine's field behind St Augustine's church.

LICHFIELD 27 NUNEATON OLD EDS 12

ON a damp dismal afternoon, Lichfield were looking to continue their good run of results against a Nuneaton side that had won two of their last three and were desperate for points in their battle against relegation.

Nuneaton struck first through their strong running centre Peacock in the 13th minute and he also converted.

In the 37th minute Brear got his second and Lichfield went into half time 17-7 in front. When Greg Massey went over on 48 minutes, brother Josh converted to go 24-7 to the good.

Two minutes later Tom Paulson went into another of his renowned bone crunching hits and had to leave the field to be checked out in the hospital. He returned to the club later none the worse for his early exit. He was replaced by evergreen John Hicks who was almost on the scoresheet within minutes of coming on only to be dragged down just short of the line.

DREAM IS OVER FOR SCHOLARS

MANSFIELD TOWN 3 CHASETOWN 1, FA CARLSBERG TROPHY QUARTER FINAL REPLAY

CHASETOWN'S wonderful FA Trophy run came to an end as they were defeated 3-1 by Mansfield Town in Tuesday's replay.

Yet again the Scholars– with more than 500 travelling supporters behind them – did not disgrace themselves against higher league opposition. But after they had dominated much of the first half Mansfield came on strong in the second period and they eventually prevailed.

A steady start saw Chasetown exert early pressure down the right but the Stags defence were equal to them, Ramone Stephens sending in a dangerous cross from the right in the sixth minute but the ball just evaded Danny Smith and the hosts were able to clear.

Stephens provided another peach of a cross four minutes later which allowed Ben Jevons a fine diving header but his effort went wide of the post with Richard Davies shooting wide seconds afterwards as the Scholars proved more than up to the task against their Blue Square Premier opponents.

Mansfield's first chance did not come until the 15th minute when Paul Connor headed a cross from home debutant Daniel Spence inches over the bar, but in response another Stephens cross was sliced wide by Gary Birch.

Against the run of play it was Mansfield who took the lead on 36 minutes. Ashley Cain picked up a loose ball on the right and crossed neatly to skipper Adam Murray who lashed his shot into the roof of the net.

Two quick chances for the Stags followed but Chris Slater was equal to them, while skipper Richard Teesdale blocked a shot from Danny Mitchley on 43 minutes as Mansfield pressed for a second goal. Mansfield went close right from the kick-off in the second half through a Cain free kick and a Mitchley shot from a tight angle.

The latter then forced Ryan Price to duck low to save after beating Lee Parsons to the ball 10 yards out before Gary Silk fired narrowly over the bar, and the Stags certainly began to look the better side since the break.

On 52 minutes, however, the Scholars sensationally drew level when a Chris Peel free kick caused a goalmouth scramble with a stab at goal by Birch but it was Ben Jevons who smashed the equaliser into the roof of the net.

Two minutes later and the hosts restored their lead in dramatic and controversial fashion. Two shots from close range bounced back off the woodwork but Louis Briscoe ensured it was third time lucky at the near post although referee Mohareb had to consult with his linesman before awarding the goal after the offside flag had initially gone up.

Price had to be alert to gather a loose ball before Briscoe could shoot on 63 minutes but Mansfield continued to dominate although home keeper David Grof had to get down low to stop a Birch chance on 74 minutes.

One minute later and the Stags made things secure as Connor's cross picked out Mitchley and he had little trouble in rifling his side's third past Price and into the back of the net.

Still chances rained in for Mansfield, Briscoe cannoning a shot off the bar with ten minutes to go and Mitchley firing over, while Chasetown were restricted to a free kick from Peel which went just over the bar and a couple of half-chances from Birch in the closing stages as their Trophy flame was finally extinguished.

With Mansfield preparing to meet Luton Town in the Trophy semis this weekend, it's back to Evo-Stik League action for Chasetown tonight (Thursday) as Mickleover Sports visit the Scholars Ground, kick off 7.45pm) before the Scholars travel to Burscough on Saturday for a 3pm start.

CHASETOWN FC

OSSETT TOWN 2 CHASETOWN 4

CHASETOWN warmed up nicely for Tuesday night's FA Carlsberg Trophy replay with a 4-2 win at Ossett Town on Saturday.

The visitors dominated possession for most of the first half, but a suspected hamstring injury to Dean Perrow shortly before the break cast a shadow over proceedings. This appeared to affect the Scholars for much of the second half as Ossett drew level, but the visitors regained control comfortably in the closing stages.

The two-goal cushion lasted a mere five minutes before a corner was headed out only as far as Town midfielder David Cyrus and Scholars keeper Ryan Price could only help his left-footed shot into the net.

Perrow then limped off on 37 minutes and was replaced by new signing Danny Lloyd-McGoldrick, who joined the Scholars on Friday from Skelmersdale United, but the visitors still held the clear advantage for the rest of the half.

Price made a fine save at full stretch to prevent Shane Kelsey putting Ossett in front on 69 minutes, and Chasetown made heavy weather of the proceedings until Gary Birch took the ball around Bennett as he scrambled on all fours on 79 minutes.

The striker's shot was headed off the line by the Ossett defence but only as far as Steve Abbott who gratefully drove home the Scholars' third.

HEDNESFORD TOWN FC

HEDNESFORD Town Football Supporters Association have been given the green light by club Chairman Steve Price for a variety of supporter led initiatives to increase attendance at Keys Park.

Joint association chairman Scott Smith said: "Hednesford Town FC has a lot of support in the local community and we are keen to get people back into the habit of coming to games.

"The Premiership is great, but for the live football experience we think a friendly local non-league club, like ours, has a lot to offer, particularly for local families."

The Supporters Association has targeted the match against Oxford City on Saturday March 26 to try to attract new and old faces to Keys Park. As England are playing Wales that day at 3pm, there will be no Premiership action; leaving local followers of Wolves, Albion, Blues and Villa with a rare spare Saturday. The club have also moved the kick off to 12.30pm to allow people to get away to watch the international game.

To attract younger fans the club will be offering discounted parent and child tickets allowing an adult with a child under 16 admission for £10, (with a charge of £2 for each additional child). Additional entertainment will be provided by a half-time penalty shoot out between teams from two local schools and club mascot "Pitman Pete" will be handing out sweets.

Meanwhile, ThyssenKrupp Tallent have agreed to support Hednesford Town by being match sponsors at Keys Park for this Saturday's home game against Tiverton (March 12).

Ranks

Pitmen club secretary Terry McMahon said: "We are delighted that this major local company has agreed to show its support for both Hednesford Town Football Club and the local community in this way."

The club has also extended a special offer to all ThyssenKrupp employees who attend the game as part of its plan to increase attendance at matches.

Mr McMahon said: "We are hoping to welcome, from among the ranks of ThyssenKrupp's employees and their families, some of our old supporters who we haven't seen for a while together with some first time visitors to Keys Park."

For the same game, Hednesford Town will also welcome fundraisers from Hospital Radio Stafford, a volunteer run station that has been broadcasting to Stafford and Cannock Chase Hospitals since 1972.

The dates for the Red Insure Cup Final have been scheduled, with the Pitmen playing the first leg away at Hemel Hempstead Town FC on Tuesday April 5. The second leg will be played at Keys Park a week later with a 7.45pm kick off.

The Pitmen's young guns, the under-17s are lying third in the u-18 Midland Junior Premier League and have made it through to the semi-final of the Staffordshire FA Floodlit Youth Cup.

They have been drawn at home to Burton Albion and the tie will be played next Wednesday (March 16) at 7.30pm.Admission is £2.50 adults and £1 concessions.

Last-minute Waple strike puts Hayes into last four

HEATH HAYES 1 NEWPORT TOWN 0

HEATH HAYES FC

A LAST-minute goal took Heath Hayes through to the semi-final of the JW Hunt Cup – despite a less than convincing performance,.

Hayes dominated the first half but failed to take advantage of several gilt-edged chances. The Newport central defensive partnership of George Hill and Wayne Gaskell performed admirably, backed up by a faultless goalkeeping performance from Martin Dunn.

As the game wore on Newport played with a lot more confidence and it took some assured handling from home keeper Stuart France and one notable goal line clearance from James Barber to prevent them from springing an upset.

With time running out, Hayes bolstered their efforts with a couple of decisive substitutions. On came Ben Maddox and Karl Wallis with Maddox's first significant contribution being to set up the winner.

Tiring visitors notch up third victory in six days

FRIAR LANE & EPWORTH 1 HEATH HAYES 3

HEATH Hayes recorded their third win in six days following the visit to Leicester for this Midland Alliance game.

Hayes were now in full flow and it looked as if they might rack up a cricket score.Deakin had the chance to make it three from the spot after Waple had been upended but his well struck shot was saved by Scot Simpson.

Deakin atoned on 47 minutes firing home from 15 yards following good work by substitute Joe McNulty. Haycock came close on a couple of times to notching the goal his efforts deserved but Simpson was in fine form and his team had him to thank for not being on the end of a heavy defeat.

ALVECHURCH 1 HEATH HAYES 3

However, it took until the 24th minute to get the breakthrough. Alan Haycock and Dave Waple combined well to set up Ben Haseley to fire home from the edge of the box.

Five minutes later Hayes increased their lead when Andrew Davies headed home following a scramble after the Alvechurch defence failed to clear Joe McNulty's corner. To their credit the young Church side showed plenty of fight and reduced the arrears when Dave Dinemen headed home Alan Smith's well flighted free kick.

The game began to deteriorate as a spectacle with both sides guilty of too many petty fouls. The football that was played came from the visitors with the pace and industry of Haseley and Haycock a constant threat whilst the defence rarely looked troubled.
